WARREN COUNTY

The Warren County Redevelopment Authority meets Monday to approve purchase of the Smith property, a portion of the Liberty st. urban renewal project.

Genevieve Blatt, former secretary of Internal Affairs in Pennsylvania and now assistant director of the federal Department of the Aging, will be in Warren today to meet with organizations concerned with the elderly. She will attend a public meeting at the court house at 2 p.m.

THE NATION

Men's neckties with pendants—costing from $2 to $1,375—have even nonhippie males swarming to jewelry counters. The rage for necklaces accompanies the current popularity of turtle-neck sweaters.

Despite protests, the biggest nuclear blast ever detonated in the United States went off underground Friday, swaying chandeliers in Las Vegas and jarring buildings hundreds of miles away.

The Labor Department reported that the cost of living in the United States had increased four-tenths of 1 per cent in March—the biggest jump in eight months. The consumer price index rose to 119.5 per cent of the 1957-59 base period and was 3.9 per cent higher than a year ago.

An international day of protest against the war in Vietnam was marked by more than 200,000 college and high school students in the New York metropolitan area who cut classes in a student strike. Many thousands more in Detroit, Columbus and San Francisco and in London, Tokyo and Paris staged rallies, parades and demonstrations.

The dispute that has crippled the Morningside Heights campus of Columbia University continued for the fourth day as the faculty attempted to interpose teachers as a third force between the student demonstrators and the administration to mediate an amicable solution. The administration announced it was temporarily halting work on a gymnasium under construction in Morningside Park. H. Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael, the civil rights leaders, visited the campus, which was later sealed to everyone except students and employees after 250 high school students surged onto the grounds to support the demonstrators.

THE WORLD

Administration sources say the United States has no timetable for handing over the major part of the Vietnam war effort to the South Vietnamese and reducing American involvement.

The countryside around Saigon was the scene of renewed fighting as allied troops continued a drive to sweep Communist forces away from the capital. There were mostly small-scale battles, as well as enemy mortar and rocket attacks. South Vietnamese authorities in the city kept the army and police on full alert and again warned of a possible enemy attack.

An altarpiece by Titian, valued by some experts at $800,000, was stolen from a church near Mantua in northern Italy. A spokesman for the parish said the thieves hid in the church until it closed, removed the nine-foot by six-foot canvas from its frame, rolled it up and left by a back door.

SPORTS

The Warren Dragons Baseball Team lost to Erie Prep by a 6-0 score. The Dragons were able to get but one hit off Dave Van Volkenburg, as the Erie pitcher struck out 16.

There were three area track meets. Warren defeated Meadville, 121-29. Jamestown defeated Eisenhower, 72-64. In a triangular meet, Youngsville was high with 121, followed by Bradford Central Christian, 47, and Sheffield 21.

Jerry Quarry is the favorite in tonight's heavyweight title fight, under World Boxing Association sanction. His opponent is Jimmy Ellis of Louisville, Ky.

This is relay season. Jim Ryun is restricting himself to relay races in the Drake Relays. Villanova is a heavy favorite in the Penn Relays.

Amateur Mark Cox, a surprise in the British Open Tennis meet, lost in the quarter-finals to Rod Laver.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE MEET

Say U.S. Has No Timetable For Bigger S. Viet Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials said Friday they have no time frame in mind for the gradual takeover by the South Vietnamese Army of the major war effort and the gradual reduction of American involvement.

It appears the administration intends to avoid painting itself into corners or facing new charges of overoptimism. "There is no specific time plan, only a goal," said one official.

"It is more a matter of a change in attitude, a change in approach so that South Vietnamese troops can be moved into more active combat areas."

Phone Strike

Talks Recess

For Weekend

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Negotiators for the Bell Telephone Co. and the striking Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania (FTWP) recessed for the weekend Friday, but sub-committees were to meet to attempt to iron out minor contract provisions.

Samuel Line Bell assistant vice president, said negotiators began separate meetings at 2 p.m. Friday, but adjourned after an hour and a half, with no progress reported.

He said both sides were subject to recall by federal mediators during the recess period, which ends Monday morning.

Some 13,000 members of the independent FTWP called the strike at midnight Wednesday in support of demands for a 14.2 per cent pay increase. The strike came as the deadline in a wage reopener clause in a 36 month contract expired.

On Thursday, workers picketed Bell facilities.

Police were summoned in both Philadelphia and Pittsburgh to break up massed lines, prohibited by a statewide court order.

In Warren, police, in order to prevent any incidents, explained the court order to the picketers. Employees in management, without major difficulty crossed the picket lines several times Friday to man the switchboards.

Federation president I. C. Glendonning Friday accused the company of bringing in strikebreakers who he said, caused "49 of the 51 incidents reported so far."

Discuss Purchase

Of Building in Downtown Warren

May 1 has been set as the date for the purchase of the first piece of private property in the Liberty Street Urban Renewal project.

The Warren County Redevelopment Authority will meet Monday to complete preliminary arrangements for buying the Smith property on Liberty st., a building now housing Logan's Men's Clothing Store and Isabel's jewelry shop.

At the special meeting in the board room of the Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Co., the authority also will move for condemnation of the Johnson property on Third st. and authorize a redevelopment assistance grant contract with the state.

"We want them to know that the time has come to face up to their responsibilities."

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford told the annual luncheon of the Associated Press in New York last Monday: "The increased effectiveness of the South Vietnamese government and its fighting forces will now permit us to level off our effort and in due time to begin the gradual process of reduction."

When a reporter sought clarification, Johnson administration officials said "There isn't any pat, specific aim in time."

These officials stressed that any new major offensives by the Communists could delay the achievement of the goal.

Sad experience has shown the perils of firm forecasts of scaling down U.S. involvement.

In October 1963, then Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor reported to President John F. Kennedy their view "that the major part of the U.S. military task can be completed by the end of 1965."

By the end of 1965, the United States had moved deep into the war, rather than disengaging.

Last November, Gen. William C. Westmoreland predicted it might be possible to start scaling down U.S. forces within the subsequent two years.

Two months later the enemy joined U.S. plans by launching his heaviest nationwide offensive of the war, and nothing has been heard since about Westmoreland's two-year prediction.

To prepare the South Vietnamese for shouldering the major burden of the war, the United States is embarked on a large-scale program to modernize Saigon's regular and militia forces.

Administration officials said this plan also may have psychological impact on the North Vietnamese leadership.

As they view it, the Hanoi regime may now have to look ahead to the prospect of dealing with a well trained fighting force that ultimately could be as big as 900,000 men—a force that, unlike the Americans, "would not pick up and leave."

South Vietnamese forces now total about 700,000 men. The Saigon government has announced intentions to raise another 135,000 troops and there are unofficial reports that some Vietnamese leaders propose an over-all increase of 200,000.

The administration officials implied that even after the United States steps back from the war it would continue to help South Vietnam with weapons and the means for mobility, apparently meaning air transport of troops.

March Cost-of-Living Figure Jumps Four-Tenths Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs, rising at near-Korean War speed, jumped four-tenths of one per cent in March but a government official virtually ruled out any possibility of federal price controls.

The latest round of increases capped six months of price hikes running at a 4 per cent annual rate, highest since 1951 when Korean War price and wage lids were clamped on the economy.

"It seems almost out of the question, with the prospects for peace in Vietnam, that price controls would be instituted at this time," said Asst. Commissioner Arnold Chase of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

But a further acceleration of economic pressures, partly due to wage hikes, could cause more of the increases to become frozen into the nation's price structure, Chase said.

The rise in living costs 17 years ago that led to Korean

Waves of B52s Bomb To Prevent Attacks In Saigon, Hue Areas

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of B52 bombers staged four more raids 24 to 35 miles northwest of Saigon, hitting at Viet Cong forces believed to be preparing another attack on the capital, military sources reported Saturday.

The strikes following up earlier B52 raids around the city were among the closest to Saigon in the war.

The Stratofortresses also returned to the A Shau Valley in the northern part of the country to continue attacks on staging bases of 15 to 20 North Vietnamese battalions said to be capable of attacking Hue "in a matter of a few hours."

Over North Vietnam, Air Force F111 variable-wing jets returned to bombing action Friday night after a four-day lapse that followed the loss Monday of the third of the $6-million fighter-bombers in a month. The F111s hit at communications and supply lines around Dong Hoi.

About 50 miles to the south, U.S. Marines reported killing 72 North Vietnamese troops while losing nine killed in three hours of fighting below the demilitarized zone near Con Thien.

Allied intelligence sources said the North Vietnamese have deployed three regiments of troops, one newly infiltrated from the North, and considerable artillery in the Con Thien area. They could deliver heavy barrages at U.S. positions along the frontier, the sources said.

Elsewhere in the South, ground action was reported light and scattered.

U.S. bombing missions over North Vietnam were limited again Friday to the 170 miles between the DMZ and the 19th parallel.

The B52 attacks pointed to two major areas of concern for the allied commands in South Vietnam. The North Vietnamese troops in the A Shau Valley threaten the area below the demilitarized zone and the Viet Cong outside Saigon were believed planning an effort to repeat their attack on the capital in the lunar new year offensive.

Except for scattered skirmishes, U.S. infantrymen and helicopter crews sweeping the area around the capital reported an ominous quiet Friday night after South Vietnamese national police announced they thwarted a Viet Cong attempt to smuggle A6 submachine guns into the city by sampan.

Helicopter gunships from the 17th Cavalry, combing an area six miles west of Saigon, said they killed eight Viet Cong and destroyed several bunkers. Other reconnaissance units reported finding the bodies of another five enemy killed by the tons of explosives dropped earlier in the day.

The B52 raids in the north were in the general area of a visit Friday by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Vietnam. His trip seemed to emphasize his concern about the sector.

The B52 bombers hit the A Shau Valley area three times Friday.

Day of Protest Widely Observed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Students protested against the war in Vietnam and racism with demonstrations and classroom boycotts at a score of universities and colleges across the nation Friday. Other demonstrations were held abroad.

The protests led off two days of antiwar activities to be followed Saturday with demonstrations, parades and rallies in about 20 American cities. The widow of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was to speak at a huge gathering expected in Central Park in New York City.

The Student Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam had hoped that nearly one million college and high school students and teachers in the United States and abroad would take part in Friday's activities.

But generally it appeared that only a small number of students were taking part in the activities. At some campuses, the University of California at Berkeley, for instance, the scene of earlier major antiwar demonstrations, most students ignored pickets urging them to cut classes.

The Student committee, organized in Chicago in 1966 and headquartered in New York, is a coalition of student government groups, left-wing student groups and antiwar organizations. Its executive secretary is Linda Morse, 24, of Philadelphia.

The committee is affiliated with the National Mobilization Coalition to End the War in Vietnam. Other members include SANE and Women Strike for Peace.

The students demonstrated and cut classes on campuses in New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Georgia, Ohio and California. In New York City, high school students boycotted classes at about 20 schools. A demonstration was planned for later Friday at the University of Washington in Seattle.

In Prague, more than 1,000 Czechoslovak students staged an anti-American demonstration in front of the U.S. Embassy.

In Paris, a Viet Cong flag was hung on the Arch of Triumph and another on the Eiffel Tower in preparation for a street demonstration later.

The Day in Politics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Friday's political highlights: The White House termed nonsense a British commentator's forecast that LBJ may resign and turn the presidency over to Humphrey, thus insuring Kennedy's defeat.

Kennedy traded gibes with medical students at Indiana University, and proposed remedies for the "failures" of the health care system. McCarthy said that in his campaign he is not "poor mouth-ing" but "We don't have enough money to do everything we want to do."

Humphrey is expected to announce today that he is a candidate.

Rockefeller probably will announce his candidacy for the Republican nomination in May, Sen. Thurston Morton said.

Wallace was heavily guarded as he pushed through Texas on his independent campaign for the presidency.

Brown, Carmichael Visit Columbia U.

NEW YORK (AP) — Black Power militants H. Rap Brown and Stokely Carmichael briefly invaded the Columbia University campus Friday, to lend support to a four-day student sit-in of five occupied buildings. The demonstration continued even after the school was closed for the weekend.

Brown, currently facing charges in Maryland of inciting a racial riot, announced: "We're going to let Columbia know that if they don't deal with the black brothers in here, they're going to have to deal with the black people of Harlem."

He and Carmichael spent about 50 minutes in occupied Hamilton Hall, where Negro students have been demonstrating against the erection of a new university gymnasium on 2.1 acres of a 30-acre playground on the edge of Harlem. Some students also are known to be in the hall, but not how many.

Earlier, the university agreed to halt construction on the gym for the time being, in deference to complaints that the new building would deprive the Negro neighborhood of needed play space. However, the students said they would not end their demonstration until they were guaranteed amnesty.

Estimates of student participation in the four-day demonstration have ranged from 200 to 400, more than half of them white. There are about 27,000 students at the Ivy League school that overlooks Harlem.

Meanwhile, across town in Brooklyn, Long Island University reached an agreement with a handful of demonstrators who on Thursday barricaded themselves for nine hours in the office of Acting Provost William T. Lai.

The LIU administration agreed with demands for more scholarships for Negroes, more Negro teachers, courses in black history and culture, a review of salaries of Negro non-academic employees and office space for the protesting Student Organization for Black Unity. Total amnesty also was granted the protesters.

Set Clocks Ahead

Daylight Savings time goes into effect this weekend. To be sure you're not behind the times on Sunday morning, turn your clocks ahead one hour before retiring Saturday night.

There are a few areas in the country, however, where residents won't have to worry about changing the clocks. Hawaii, Indiana and Arizona are exempt from the Uniform Time Act adopted by Congress in 1966 which provides for country-wide observance of Daylight Savings time.

H-Blast Rocks State of Nevada

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The biggest nuclear bang in 17 years of Nevada testing rocked this sparsely populated state Friday but caused no serious damage or earthquakes, as some scientists and others had feared.

The weapons development test of an experimental hydrogen bomb, rated as the equivalent of a million tons of TNT, sent shock waves rolling into other states, but ground motion was barely perceptible.

At the nearly empty mining town of Goldfield, near the site, the jolt knocked bricks from an abandoned building. At Beatty, 50 miles away, bottles on a shelf were jiggled. At the mining hamlet of Tonopah Tom Hunter said of his small house trailer, "I was afraid it was going to roll over."

The blast came at 7 a.m. in a chamber 3,000 feet under lonely Pahute Mesa, 100 miles northwest. It was 10 times more powerful than the atomic bomb that smashed Hiroshima during World War II, and slightly more powerful than the biggest previous test here.

In Las Vegas the shock wave swayed buildings. As usual, gamblers kept on gambling.

The AEC said it received five reports of structural damage in Las Vegas, such as loosened bricks and a cracked foundation — about the same as after any large shot.

A wave of protests crested in the week preceding the test.

Howard Hughes, the Las Vegas billionaire who has invested millions in hotel-casinos, waged a 90-day delay to study whether the blast might contaminate air or ground water or trigger earthquakes. Scientists, labor unions and peace groups also urged delay.

The only delay was one hour. The AEC wanted to make sure wind wouldn't carry contaminants away if they escaped from the chamber.

A post-shot AEC statement said, "All indications are that the performance of this important test and its effects were in accordance with our expectations."

Thai Official Given Tour by Voters' League

An elections official from Thailand was guided through the voting machine plant in Jamestown, N.Y., by the League of Women Voters of the Warren area this week.

Mrs. T. K. Stratton, president, Mrs. Wade Redding, voters service chairman, and Mrs. R. Pierson Eaton, public relations chairman, along with their husbands, greeted Sawai Puramanni at the Jamestown bus station on his arrival from Pittsburgh. The 32-year-old chief of election supervision in Thailand is on a three-month tour, observing primary elections in the United States and how election laws are administered.

The U.S. State department asked the national League of Women Voters to arrange the tour. Thailand—the setting for the musical comedy, "The King and I"—became a constitutional monarchy in 1932. It has an interim constitution approved in 1959 which provides for a national assembly, half of whose members are elected. The government is now planning for the election of other representatives and local officials, and sent Mr. Sawai to America to learn the techniques of organizing an election.

By the time he arrived in Pittsburgh to watch the primary election, Mr. Sawai was well versed in the "Vote Yes" campaign of the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters. Earlier he had observed the presidential primary in New Hampshire, where the Concord league guided him. He flew back to Washington for a look at neighborhood registration for the brand new school board elections, and watched voluntary efforts to upgrade political campaigns and induce citizen participation in political parties.

Going out to Detroit, he observed a local election at Ann Arbor and chatted with the state elections director in Lansing. Returning east to New Jersey, the Thailand visitor noted a registration procedure in a township and watched the state legislature in session.

VOTING MACHINES DEMONSTRATED

A Thailand official learned about automatic voting machines when he was guided by the League of Women Voters through a Jamestown, N.Y., plant this week. The U.S. State department asked the national LWV to arrange a three-month tour for Thailand's chief of election supervision. Many leagues helped, and

Orders Special Riot Center At Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford ordered Friday that a special riot control command center be set up in the Pentagon.

The new unit will swing into action any time it appears federal troops may be needed to help out down U.S. city disorders.

An Army three-star general was named to head the agency, the Directorate of Civil Disturbances Planning and Operations.

His principal aide will be an Air Force two-star general thoroughly versed in airlifting troops around the country. Navy and Marine officers also are being assigned to the directorate.

The Pentagon said the command center already is partly operational and will be fully operational by July 1.

Carbon Monoxide Results in Death In Meadville Area

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — The coroner said a faulty muffler leaked carbon monoxide fumes into a parked car Friday, killing a man and hospitalizing a girl.

Crawford County Coroner Dr. Wilbur Thomas said Willie C. Hays, 23, of Rt. 4, Jefferson, Ohio, had been dead for four hours before his car was found along a rural road.

Thomas said Sandra Boyd, 19, of Meadville apparently managed to roll down the window on her side. She was hospitalized in critical condition.

979 Countians Get State Vet Benefits

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG — A total of 979 Warren County veterans or veterans' beneficiaries as of the end of the past fiscal year had received or were receiving payments under the Pennsylvania Korean Conflict Veterans' Bonus Act, according to records of the State Department of Military Affairs.

The breakdown for the county includes 613 Army veterans, 184 Navy veterans, 140 Air Force veterans, plus 42 "miscellaneous" — including U. S. Marine Corps, U.S. Coast Guard, Nurses' Corps, Public Health Service, and Aviation Cadets on active duty.

Total payments to Warren County veterans of the Korean Conflict as of the end of the fiscal year, June 30, 1967, amounted to $244,780 of which amount $4710 was in the form of payments to veterans' beneficiaries, with $219,290 going to out-of-service veterans and $20,780 to veterans of the conflict still classified as on active duty.

Throughout the state as a whole, as of the end of the past fiscal year, the Korean bonus had been paid to 263,937 Pennsylvania veterans (exclusive of eligible applicants living outside of the state) for a total bonus payment of $66,233,208.

Of the total number of recipients, the greatest single number of payments by branch of service was the Army with 152,428, followed by the Navy with 47,322, and the Air Force, at 43,691.

Set Damage at $175 In 2-Auto Accident

Property damage was estimated to total $175 in a two-car traffic mishap on Madison avenue Thursday.

Borough police officer Charles Musante said a car operated by Martin L. Graves, traveling west on Madison came to a bend in the highway when an eastbound car caused the driver to pull too far right and strike a parked car owned by Kenneth Klakamp, of 13 Madison ave.

According to police, the Klakamp car was illegally parked and had an illegal registration. The owner had been advised to remove the vehicle but the accident occurred before he had an opportunity to do so.

Klakamp told police his car was pushed from a driveway at his residence by persons unknown and his former landlord verified his story.

Set Scouting Meet

A meeting about this year's scouting expedition to the Philmont Scout Ranch has been scheduled for Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the scouting service center. All parents and boys interested in the trip are asked to attend the program. A Scout or Explorer must be 14 years old by September to become part of the expedition.

It was a practice among the ancient Egyptian men to attach a false beard to their faces with a strap.

U.S. and Soviets Begin N-Ban Drive

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union pleaded jointly Friday for quick endorsement by the General Assembly of a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said approval of the treaty would prove to the world that agreement, "rather than discord, will be the prevailing atmosphere in world affairs."

Goldberg and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov delivered their pleas to the U.N. assembly's main political committee.

The two powers asked for overwhelming support of the treaty worked out by them at the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva and forwarded to the United Nations for its consideration at the resumed assembly session.

A half dozen or so countries have voiced objections to the treaty and the high-power pleas were aimed at overcoming their opposition.

The objecting countries include India, Brazil, Italy, Japan, West Germany and Romania. Communist China and France, both nuclear powers, have spurned the treaty.

"Endorsement of this treaty now... will improve the atmosphere for peaceful settlement of other conflicts, the resolution of which brooks no delay," Goldberg said.

Kuznetsov said adoption of the treaty "unfolds new vistas, not only for disarmament talks but also for the development of international cooperation in the peaceful uses of atomic energy, which promises an unparalleled progress of civilization."

He said the treaty contains provisions that would permit every nation, large and small, to use nuclear explosions for the purposes of economic development.

As for guaranteeing security of smaller countries, he said the greater number of signers "the greater will be the confidence that nuclear weapons will never be used by any party in a conflict between states, whether in Asia, Africa, Latin America, or any other part of the world."

The committee adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Concert Series Drive Extended Over Weekend

Fortunately for those who may have forgotten, the Warren Concert series drive has been extended.

As of 9 p.m. Friday, the announced closing time of the drive, the Concert association had sold 950 tickets about 75 short of the goal of 1025 needed to sell out the Warren Area High School auditorium for the four concert series.

Campaign headquarters will remain open until noon today for late reports from workers and checks mailed over the weekend will be accepted, Sally Sokolski, campaign chairman said.

Response this year has not been as overwhelming as last year, when Fred Waring topped the concert attractions. As of now, Mrs. Sokolski said, only 134 students have signed up. The concerts should be of prime interest to those who are studying music, she said.

Two of the concerts for next season have been announced—the Norman Luboff Choir and the Princeton Chamber Orchestra. The others will not be named, the chairman said, until after the close of the campaign.

Those who wish to write for tickets should mail their requests to Warren Concert Association, Box 884, Warren, and enclose their check ($4.50 for students' tickets and $8.50 for adults).

Corry Area Woman Injured in Mishap

CORRY — An RD2, Corry woman narrowly escaped serious injury shortly before 1 a.m. Thursday when her car veered off the Corry-Spring Creek road in Warren County and crashed, pinning her inside.

Admitted to Corry Memorial Hospital with a back injury and minor body bruises was Mrs. Ruth Bretherton, 35.

According to state police of the Corry substation, the Bretherton vehicle was eastbound and failed to negotiate a slight left curve at Colza's Corners. The car left the highway, knocked down a sign 12 feet from the road and continued another 129 feet along a deep ditch before coming to a halt against an embankment.

Police said she will be charged with driving too fast for conditions. Damage to the car was listed at $500.

Negro Hiring Issue Halts Big Construction Projects

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dust is gathering on $15.2 million in federal construction projects as government officials and contractors lock horns over the hiring of Negroes.

The stalemate is the result of the "Philadelphia Plan" set up in November by the Philadelphia Federal Executive Board, which can block federal awards to contractors who don't provide for hiring minority group laborers.

Bennett O. Stalvey Jr., coordinator of the office of federal contract compliance of this area, charged that five contractors have failed to resolve racial imbalance in their work crews. Among their 8,500 members, he said, local craft unions have only "between 50 and 60 Negro members—less than one per cent."

"Philadelphia and Cleveland were two cities chosen for this plan because the craft unions are so very exclusive," he said.

Henry Taylor, executive vice president of the General Building Contractors Association, also admitted to a stalemate. He said Negro workers would

Gheorghiu-Dej Is Now a 'Nonperson'

BUCHAREST (AP) — Following Stalin, Khrushchev and Novotny, Romania's late strong man, Gheorghiu-Dej, entered the realm of Communist nonpersons Friday, denounced by the party he ruled for a decade, until 1965.

A commission of the Romanian party's Central Committee implicated Gheorghiu-Dej in the trial and execution of a Communist official, Lucretiu Patrascanu in 1954, and said he held direct responsibility in the slaying in 1946 of Stefan Foris, the wartime secretary-general of the Romanian party.

This denunciation of a hero, lionized in school books and statuary, gave indications of the start of a liberalization process in Romania, unorthodox in foreign policy, but tightly regimented along Soviet lines at home.

Gheorghiu-Dej's posthumous fall from grace resembled that of Joseph Stalin in the Soviet Union in 1956, Nikita Khrushchev was later disgraced and this year, Antonin Novotny was pushed out of his posts as president and party chief of Czechoslovakia in that nation's drive toward "socialist democratization."

Gheorghiu-Dej took with him a current member of the Romanian party presidium, Alexandru Draghici, who was also charged with taking "unjust repressive measures." The commission recommended his removal as deputy premier and stripped him of all party functions.

In Prague, informants said that the Romanian move seemed to be its reply to Soviet attempts to force it back into the Kremlin orbit and bar an independent alliance with Czechoslovakia, Draghici, a former Soviet-trained secret policeman, was described as Moscow's man in Bucharest.

A Romanian party communiqué said the Central Committee would investigate "the responsibility of all those who took part in repressive measures of an illegal nature" and would mete out "party punishment" accordingly. This suggested further action against functionaries still holding party positions.

Romania's leader since Gheorghiu-Dej's death in 1965, Nicolae Ceausescu, appeared strengthened by the denunciation because it gave him a chance to root out old liners.

State Education Chief Criticizes Teachers' Group
HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. David H. Kurtzman, superintendent of public instruction, took issue Friday with the Pennsylvania State Education Association, which has imposed sanctions on Gov. Shafer and the legislature.

Kurtzman criticized the PSEA for calling Pennsylvania an unfit place to work because of low salary schedules. The state's top school administrator said the 80,000-member teacher organization was not telling the whole story.

Referring to statistics compiled by his department, Kurtzman said only 25 of the state's 573 school districts fail to pay more than the mandated starting minimum salary for teachers of $4,500.

"The larger and more important picture is that 367 school districts are now paying a beginning salary of $5,100 or more, and that 34...are already paying beginning salaries of $5,600 or more," Kurtzman said in a statement.

The PSEA's 1,000-member House of Delegates voted the sanctions, a form of professional blacklisting, on April 4. In effect, the sanctions advise beginning teachers that salaries in Pennsylvania are unsatisfactory.

The PSEA has been striving to get the legislature to raise the minimum starting salary in the state to $6,000, but the House and Senate have been unable to agree on appropriate legislation.

Men's Necklaces Are Current Rage

NEW YORK (AP) — Men are swarming to jewelry counters to deck themselves with love necklaces.

No, this isn't another story about hippies. These men are buying the ornaments to wear with fashionable Nehru jackets and turtleneck shirts.

The hippie-inspired fashion spread first to the jet set and Cafe Society and now is sweeping through other social ranks.

"It's a fun thing," said a spokesman for Martin's, New York area specialty stores.

Profit-Sharing Payments Made By Betts Firms

Profit-sharing payments were made Thursday evening to all employees of Betts Machine, Tiona-Betts and Warren Manufacturing.

Checks were presented at a semi-annual profit-sharing meeting held at the Warren YMCA.

The meeting was preceded by dinner and also included talks and films on various aspects of the companies of interest to the employees.

Initiated at the meeting was a new service award program, "Diamonds for Decades." The program recognizes years of service by individual employees through presentation of pins with years of service designated by cut sapphires and diamonds on a background showing the company's name.

Area Men in Armed Service

Airman 1c Craig W. Channing son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Channing of RD3, Sugar Grove, has helped the Military Airlift Command's (MAC) 61st Military Airlift Wing earn the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Airman Channing, a jet aircraft mechanic with a unit of the 61st at Yokota, AB, Japan, will wear the distinctive ribbon as a permanent decoration. The Wing was honored for exceptionally meritorious service during a one-year period, with particular emphasis on its support of military operations in Southeast Asia.

To date the wing has amassed more than 750,000 accident-free flying hours, a record dating back to June 1956 which is unsurpassed by any military organization.

This is the fourth time that the 61st has been so honored.

The airman is a graduate of Eisenhower High School, Russell.

Market Averages Show Modest Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market Friday ended the week on a note of firmness, erasing a small loss at mid-day. Volume was 13.48 million shares compared with 14.43 million Thursday. The Dow Jones Industrial Average ended with a small gain of 46 at 906.03. The market remained preoccupied with the possibility that a site for Vietnam peace talks might be agreed upon at almost any time, and Wall Street is counting on a rally when that happens. Of 1,538 issues traded, 729 rose and 573 fell. New highs for the year totaled 125 and new lows 21. Sentiment was dampened early in the day by news that in March the United States suffered its first foreign-trade deficit in five years. Also, fears were expressed that rising interest rates might cause a drop in housing starts. Corporate profits, however, were well ahead of the 1967 pace, although some executives foresaw a leveling off in the current quarter. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at 323.8, with industrials up .2, rails off .3 and utilities up .2. The New York Stock Exchange index gained 17 cents at $54.26. Eleven of the 15 most active stocks rose, 3 fell and American Telephone was unchanged at 50. American Stock Exchange prices were generally higher on volume of 7.55 million shares compared with 7.94 million Thursday.

Knights Give Jamestown Grueling Test In Opener

BY DAN PRATZ
JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — The Eisenhower Knights gave Jamestown a real tough test here yesterday in the Raiders opener, as they came within eight points of defeating the mighty Raiders 72-64. Behind the power of a real team effort that enabled the Knights to sweep a pair of events and total 23 places the Blue and Gold kept everyone on the edge of their seat until the final two events.

The deciding factor rested with the high jump as both squads and spectators circled the jumping area for the showdown. The Raiders managed a first and third in the event securing the win on a jump of 5-feet-10 inches.

It was the first time in many years that the Knights have come so close to beating the strong Raiders. A victory for the Blue and Gold was secured by one point in 1962 but since that time the Jamestown squad has always proven too much for the athletes the could produce.

It was outstanding performance by several men that was the key to the near-win. Mark Backstrom pulled a first in his history by pacing a 11:33.4 two-mile winning the event for the Knights.

Pole vaulter Gary Dalrymple came through again for the winning event on a leap of 12 feet. A first in the triple jump was once more chalked up by Dave Burnett as he shot down the runway 39-feet 9 3/4 inches.

The Medley Relay, which replaces the mile relay run in Pennsylvania, was captured by the Blue and Gold in 3:45.5. Gary Collins led off the event with a quick 440 handing off to Craig Pierson who ran 220 yards giving the baton to Owen Williams who also sprinted a 220 placing the baton in Andy Bosko's hands as clean-up man who must run an 880.

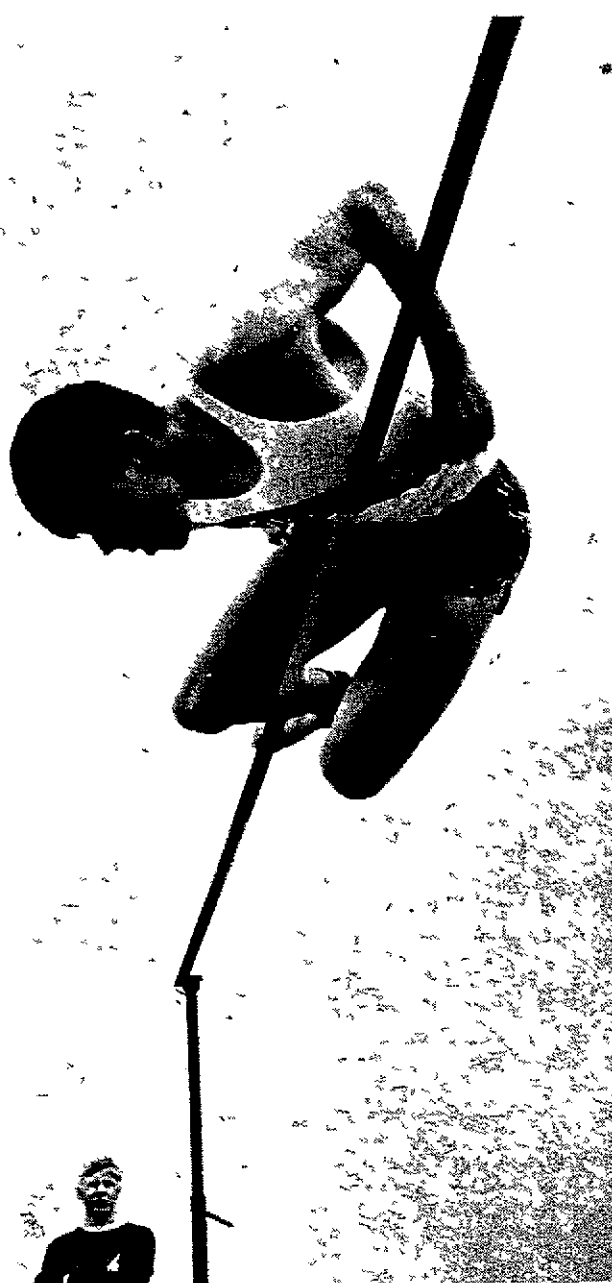

Coach Denny Engstrom was full of exclamations as he said, "I was really proud of the entire team's performance, we came mighty close. It was the determination and attitude the boys carried with them that was the answer."

The Knights are back on the oval Tuesday when they travel to North East to meet a rugged Maroon and Gold squad.

Van Nelson Sets Record In 3-Mile Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — With famed Jim Ryun concentrating on relay competition, distance star Van Nelson of St. Cloud, Minn., State grabbed the spotlight with a record three-mile victory in the opening session of the 59th Drake Relays Friday.

Nelson, Pan American 5,000 and 10,000 meter champion, set one of the day's three meet records, sweeping his third straight Drake three-mile crown in 13:17.4.

The tireless Minnesota jogger will try to become the second athlete in Drake history to complete a triple string of double victories when he defends his six-mile title Saturday.

Records also tumbled in the university 880 relay and college two-mile relays as finals were held in 11 events before an estimated crowd of 13,500 in sunny, 60-degree weather.

The Drake 100 dash record of 9.4 was matched by Andrew Hopkins of Stephen F. Austin College in the trials for the century windup Saturday. A wind-aided 9.3 clocking by Clyde Glosson of Trinity College of San Antonio, Tex., was disallowed.

Nelson capped almost four seconds off his own three-mile Drake mark of 13:21.3 as he ran away from dogging Steve Stageberg of Georgetown in the final lap. Air Force Lt. Jim Murphy, Kansas Relays' 5,000 meter winner, never was in contention and finished a distant fourth.

One of the day's fine baton performances was a meet record university 880 relay victory in 1:23.7 by Ohio University, anchored by Emmett Taylor, NCAA 440 champ. Taylor wore down Kansas' Ben Olsson in a torrid anchor lap to lower the Drake record of 1:23.8 set in 1959 by Teas.

Red Sox Trim Orioles, 6-3

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mike Andrews' seventh inning home run and sparkling relief by Lee Stange powered the Boston Red Sox to a 6-3 victory over Baltimore Friday night and ended a four-game Orioles winning streak.

Andrews connected off reliever Pete Richert, making his first appearance of the season after being sidelined because of National Guard duty.

Reds Beat Mets As Perez Stars

CINCINNATI (AP) — Tony Perez keyed two Cincinnati rallies and led the Reds to a 3-1 victory over the New York Mets Friday night.

Perez drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first and then singled as the Reds scored again in the third against loser Tom Seaver.

Loose fielding by the Mets helped the Reds to all their runs.

Braves Beat Phillies, 3-1

ATLANTA (AP) — Sonny Jackson drove in two runs with a pair of key singles and Pat Jarvis pitched a six-inning shutout as the Atlanta Braves tripped the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1 Friday night.

Jackson's seventh inning single drove in Felipe Alou with the tie-breaking run and the Braves scored again in the eighth, wrapping it up.

Jarvis struck out eight and gained his first victory of the year.

St. Louis Wins On Homer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tim McCarver's seventh-inning home run snapped a 1-1 tie and gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over Pittsburgh as Bob Gibson outdueled hard-luck Bob Veale.

McCarver slammed a Veale pitch over the right field wall with one out for his first homer of the season as the National League-leading Cardinals won their fourth straight.

Yankees Win, Mick Homers

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle slammed his 521st career home run and Mel Stottlemyre hurled a strong three-hitter giving the New York Yankees a 5-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Friday night.

Mantle's two-run shot in the seventh inning tied him for fourth place on the all-time list with Ted Williams. Only Babe Ruth with 714, Willie Mays 565, and Jimmy Foxx, 534, have more.

Before Mantle connected, the Yankees had chipped away for a 3-0 lead against Earl Wilson with five stolen bases keying the attack.

Stottlemyre struck out seven and retired the last 12 batters in order for his third victory of the year.

Warren Golfers Lose Triangular

The Warren Dragons Golf Team lost a triangular golf match Friday when the team traveled to Bradford. Warren lost to Bradford, 13 1/2 to 2 1/2, and to Otto-Eldred, 12 to 4. Bradford defeated Otto-Eldred it was reported.

A team spokesman attributed Warren's losses to a lack of practice and the loss of Matt Voight. The golfers had

Youngsville Wins Meet

YOUNGVILLE — A bundle of first places gave the Youngsville Eagles the victory in their triangular meet yesterday as they ended up with a total of 121 points. Second place Bradford Central Christian finished with 47 points and Sheffield came in third with 21 points.

Fifteen firsts were more than the competition could match as the Eagles captured the easy win. Gary Wood was a triple winner for the Red and White placing first in all three sprinting events. Wood captured the 100 in 11.0, the 220 in 23.8 and the 440 in 53.5.

Conrad Danielson chalked up two wins for Youngsville adding firsts in the high jump and a first place tie in the long jump to the Eagle total. Danielson won the high jump at 5-feet 6-inches, and the long jump with a leap of 18-feet 1 1/4 inches.

The Eagles also added all three relays to their total winning the 880 relay in 1:39.55, the mile relay in 3:40.4 and

Dragon Trackmen Defeat Meadville

The Warren Dragons powered their way to victory yesterday as they crushed Meadville 121-29 giving the Blue and White their second Section II win. The Dragons captured 16 of 18 possible first places and managed to sweep six events.

Despite the joy from such a powerful win a black cloud hit the hilltop oval as Harry Spackman pulled a groin muscle while running a 10.4 100 yard dash. Spackman, a senior, will most likely be recuperating for some time.

It was Dave Cobb pulling another triple win placing first in the 880, mile and running a leg in the victorious mile relay. The Dragon star paced a 4:43 mile and rounded the oval in 2:06.6 capturing the 880.

Darrell Pusateri chalked up a double win in field events. Pusateri heaved the shot put 45-feet 5-inches and hurled the discus 127-feet 1 1/2-inches to net two firsts for Warren.

A heave of 180-feet 2-inches was Ed O'Neill's contribution to the Dragon victory for the day. Hurdler Chris Lytle added a first to the Dragon score as he ran a fast 21.2 in the 100s.

With Spackman out of the 440 it was Dan O'Neill's job to win the event for Warren. O'Neill did as he was asked chalking up a 54.8 in the rapid distance event.

Larry Maxwell finished with a victorious 10:31.5 in the two mile run giving the Blue and White five more victory points. A leap of 5-feet 6-inches was all Mike Hackett was asked to achieve for a first in the high jump for Warren.

Warren swept six events splitting the white-wash with three firsts in the field and three on the track. Sprints were the game for the Dragons posting sweepers in the 100, 220, and 440. The Blue and White finished out the day with first, second and third in the shot put, discus and javelin.

Tuesday the Dragons travel to Cranberry to meet the Berries in their fifth section contest. Warren now carries a 2-2 slate in section II play and an overall reading of 4-2.

Prep's Van Volkenburg One-Hits Dragons, 6-0

BY DAVE MIRILLO
The name of Dave Van Volkenburg stood out yesterday afternoon during and after the Warren Dragons baseball nine was issued a solid 6-0 rap on the chin at the hands of the Erie Prep Rambler.

Van Volkenburg, a lanky south-paw was superb in hurling a one-hitter and striking out sixteen in a seven inning stint. His control was the key factor in the victory, as he tossed a mere 81 pitches.

Warren was swinging at air for 4 1/3 innings before Gary Dalrymple laced a single to right-center to spoil the no-hit bid. In the process Dalrymple was gunned down attempting to leg-out a double. This was the closest a Warrenite got to second.

It was the twenty-sixth straight win for the Erie club over a period of three seasons. Van Volkenburg boosted his high school record to a distinguishing 12-0 mark.

Doug Sorensen was tabbed for the loss in hurling 4 2/3 innings. Jim Davidson, Marc Salerno and Ken Darr came on in relief to finish up. The loss evened up Sorensen's and Warren's seasonal log at 1-1. On Saturday May 4 Warren will get another chance at Prep in Erie.

Jerry Miford, Prep's center fielder was all that was needed at the plate. Miford cracked a double and triple in the clutch to put three runs on the scoreboard. Van Volkenburg helped his own cause in booming a two-run homer in the sixth frame.

Sorensen and Van Volkenburg locked up over the first four innings in a pitcher's duel. Prep finally got to Sorensen in the top of the fifth when Pat Steenberge singled sharply up the middle. A base on balls and an error by Monaghan at third loaded the bases for Miford's two-run double off relief pitcher, Salerno.

Left-hander Chuck Loomis will pitch for the Dragons this afternoon in Erie, where they take on the Strong Vincent Cardinals at 1:30 on Ainsworth field.

White Sox Win First, After 10 Losses, 3-2

ST. PAUL—MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Chicago White Sox snapped their 10-game, season opening losing streak Friday, taking advantage of Dave Boswell's throwing error to score two unearned runs that produced a 3-2 triumph over Minnesota.

The Sox fell three games shy of tying the major league record for consecutive losses at the start of a season. Counting defeats in their last five games of 1967, the White Sox lost 15 in a row.

Tommy Davis' second home run, a 405-foot blow to left-center with two out in the second inning, gave Chicago a 1-0 lead.

Tim Cullen then led off the White Sox sixth with a single to center, and pitcher Tommy John bunted back to Boswell in front of the mound. Boswell appeared to have Cullen at second easily but threw the ball into center field.

Luis Aparicio sacrificed the runners to second and third before one run scored on Tom McCraw's sacrifice fly to center and another came home on Pete Ward's single to right for a 3-0 margin.

Minnesota got one run back in the sixth and another in the seventh before Wilbur Wood relieved for Chicago and blanked the Twins the final two innings.

A White Sox defensive play, blunted a potential big inning for the Twins in the sixth. Jack Hernandez singled, Cesar Tovar walked and Tony Oliva singled for one run.

With two out, the Sox put three men on the left side of the infield against Harmon Killebrew and the big slugger hit a line shot right at second base. man Cullen a few feet to the left of second.

Consecutive doubles by Ted Uhlaender and pinch hitter Rod Carew with two out got the other Twins' run in the seventh.

Minnesota ran itself out of the fourth inning, when Tovar and Oliva opened up with singles. Tovar was out at home trying to score when Oliva's single was bobbled momentarily. Oliva, who had three Twins hits, then had third base stolen but over-ran the bag and was tagged out.

Except for Davis' solo homer in the second, Boswell was pitching his best game in three starts this season until his throwing error got him into trouble in the sixth. With the help of a double play after he walked a man in the fourth, Boswell retired 15 of the first 16 Sox batters to face him.

Tommy John, who got credit for his first victory of the year, faced the minimum 15 Twins batters in the first five innings. But he got a lot of help from two White Sox double plays and the Twins' questionable baserunning in the fourth.

Bob Locker relieved John in the sixth and got the side out on Killebrew's liner to Cullen. Locker then was hit on the wrist by a pitch from Twins reliever Bob Miller in the eighth, and Wood came on to protect the victory.

CHICAGO (AP) — Lou Johnson's single with the bases loaded and none out in the ninth inning gave the Chicago Cubs a 3-2 victory over Houston Friday. Billy Williams opened the ninth with a double. Ron Santo was intentionally walked. The runners moved up on the third wild pitch of the game by Larry Dierker. Ernie Banks also was purposely passed, filling the bases.

The Cubs got to Dierker for two runs in the first inning. Don Kessinger led off with a double and moved to third on a wild pitch. Glenn Beckert walked and Billy Williams followed with a single, scoring Kessinger. Beckert, who had moved to third on the play, scored when Dierker uncorked his set wild pitch of the frame.

Wanderings

by Marion Honhart

SUCCESS HAS CROWNED THE WBS PRESENTATION OF "The Sound of Music" and Carroll A. Fowler, Daniel Harpster and Miss Sandra Ryan, voice, band and speech directors, respectively, and the high school in general can take much pride in the young actor-singers who are performing so beautifully. Tickets were completely sold-out for last night's performance, and the same holds true for the performance tonight! Imaginative sets establish the appropriate atmosphere and create the richness of background necessary for the von Trapp family's villa and the rich simplicity of the Nonnberg Abbey. The loveliness of the music and the story itself, a true one, of the von Trapp family who, fleeing the Nazis, had to leave their Austrian homeland also tells of the story of the young governess who had charge of the seven von Trapp children, and fell in love with their father . . . Their obstacles, trials and final success. The music, beautifully executed by the high school students, is by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

WOMAN'S CLUB BRIDGE on Thursday afternoon had six tables in play with an average score of 40. Honors went to: 1st — Mrs. J. Theo Valone and Miss Felicia Lucia 52½; 2nd — Mrs. William Petre and Mrs. James R. Valone 50½; 3rd — Mrs. Arthur DeLuca and Mrs. Howard Ryberg 45½; 4th — Miss Frances Schemmelfeng and Mrs. James Potter 45; 5th — Mrs. Mabel Sharpe and Mrs. Melvin Ahlgren 39.

AND ANOTHER PLEA TO SPRING HOUSECLEANERS . . . this one from the St. Joseph Parish Annual Bazaar committee . . . Any items such as bric-a-brac, dishes, china, small household appliances, jewelry, toys, games, books and antiques (that aren't antique enough to be authentic antiques, of course), that the annual Spring Ritual has brought to your attention and caused the question to be posed "Is this item really necessary?", will be most welcome received. They will be placed in the "White Elephant" booth at the bazaar. Any of the following committee members will be glad to arrange for pick-up of said items: Pat O'Dea 723-8385; Genevieve Clark 723-4676; Kay Lafferty 723-7711 . . . or, if you prefer, you can deliver your donation yourself to St. Joseph School. The bazaar is to be a three-day affair, May 31st, June 1st and 2nd.

THE ERIE BALLET is presenting its Spring Gala Performance on Monday and they say it has something for everyone: Music, the traditional contemporary and classical ballet, drama and romance. Music will be by Saint-Saens, Debussy, an adaptation of music by Brahms by Alex Martin for a highly imaginative and romantic ballet, also Haydn. For further information call Erie 455-9851, or 866-1729. Statia Sublette is the company's artistic director.

MINIATURES: A Sing-In Workshop is being held tomorrow from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. at the Emanuel United Church by Sweet Adelines who are preparing for the Cleveland Competition on May 14th.

The Allen Class will meet in Crary Chapel tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, instead of the regular meeting place.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Girls often have asked you this question, but I can't recall that a fellow has ever written in about it. Please help me.

When I was a senior in high school the girl I was going steady with became pregnant. I was in no position to get married, and even if I had been I would not have picked that girl. She knew it and did not try to force the issue.

The girl had her baby and put it up for adoption. Two years later she married a nice young fellow and they are getting along fine so far as I know.

I am a senior in college now and have been going with a wonderful girl. We plan to marry after graduation in June. I have never asked questions about her love life and I am hoping she will not ask questions about mine.

You have always counseled girls to keep their mouths shut about their past indiscretions. Does this go for fellows as well? — NEBRASKA QUESTIONER

DEAR NEB.: There is an important distinction between "indiscretions" and live babies. I have said a girl does not owe her fiancé a score card listing the names and numbers of the previous players. The same holds true for the fellow. An out-of-wedlock child, however, is something else and should not be kept a secret.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'd like to comment on the letter signed "I'll Be Dog-goned." I hope the man doesn't listen to you because if he sacrifices his dog for that crazy girl he will live to regret it. You said, "It shouldn't happen to a dog." I say it shouldn't happen to man.

So what if the dog eats off the same dishes? Anyone who knows anything will tell you that a dog's mouth is more sanitary than a human's. You remember that phrase "cleaner than a hound's tooth"?

I have had many dogs in my life and many women. Put them side by side and the dog wins every time. He is more honest, more faithful, more loving and less trouble. — CLYDE

DEAR CLYDE: So why don't you move into the kennel and call it a day? Your paw-print signature was my laugh for the day. Thanks for writing.

REV. AND MRS.

CHARLES SHEPPARD

Russell Notes

The Wednesday Circle of the Russell-WSCS was held in the church basement with a tureen dinner served at 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. Charles Swanson presided and Mrs. Ward Sharp gave the devotions. Mrs. Richard Enos had charge of the program and read "A Chance To Stretch" about the Wesleyan Community in Kentucky, also an article from the Guide-Post written by Jim Nabors.

A letter was read from Mrs. Ralph Baker, a former member. Mrs. Charles Pearson and Mrs. Harry Pearson were named a nominating committee for the election of officers at the next meeting.

A rummage sale was planned for sometime in May, and a tentative date of May 13 was set for a Mother and Daughter banquet. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Benton Bairstow, on May 15.

A Number One Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Hazel Thompson in Jamestown on Thursday with ten members present. A pleasant afternoon was spent and Mrs. Hazel Hale invited the group to meet at her home for the May meeting.

The Neighborhood Birthday Club met at the home of Mrs. Viola Putnam Sunday evening to celebrate the birthdays of the hostess and also of Mrs. Genevieve Kelley. Gifts and corsages were presented the honored ones.

Mrs. Charles Gray showed slides of her trip to Europe last summer. Recent guests of Mrs. Pearl Larimer have been Leon Arnold of Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Eva Cox, her son and daughter-in-law and granddaughter of Jamestown.

Pfc. Ivan Smith is spending a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Smith.

Jamestown, Va., was settled in 1607 by John Smith, an English colonist.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This may sound like a dumb question but I need an answer.

When a person is served stewed prunes what is he supposed to do with the pits?

I always thought it was proper to spit the pits into the spoon and leave them on the plate. I did this recently at a breakfast and got some very dirty looks. What's the word, Ann? — BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: I can't imagine what else you'd do with prune pits but put them on the plate. This should be done as quietly as possible. When a pit hits fine china or thin crystal it makes a pinging sound which creates attention. Maybe THAT'S your problem.

How far should a teen-age couple go? Can necking be safe? When does it become too hot to handle? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Necking And Petting — What Are The Limits?" Mail your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Singing Sheppards Giving Sacred Concert May 1st

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Sheppard of Wilmore, Ky., will present a program of sacred music at the Evangelical United Methodist Church on Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., May 1. The church is located at 26 Second street, Youngsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard are both graduates of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky. Mr. Sheppard has studied at the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, and taught on the music faculty of Chicago Evangelistic Institute, now Vennard College. Mrs. Sheppard has studied at the university of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and headed the music department of Malone College in Canton, Ohio. The Sheppards have served as ministers of music in Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren Churches in Kentucky, Illinois and Florida.

It has been the privilege of the Sheppards to travel and sing in Europe in song evangelism, singing in Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Spain, and the British Isles. While singing in Holland they were presented to the late Dutch Queen, Princess Wilhelmina. Spending a year traveling through Africa and the Middle East in missionary song, evangelism was a thrilling experience. Singing highlights of the journeys of the Sheppards has been a city-wide meeting in Capetown, South Africa; annual conferences in West Africa; a great tent campaign in Beirut, Lebanon; the annual Methodist Conference of Austria in Vienna; a Baptist Youth Conference in Rushlikon, Switzerland; Hungarian refugee camps in Austria; a great Ascension Day service in Bern, Switzerland.

The program of sacred music will be varied, including sacred classics, great hymns of the church, and gospel songs. A free will offering will be received for the couple. The public is cordially invited to attend this special service in the ministry of sacred song.

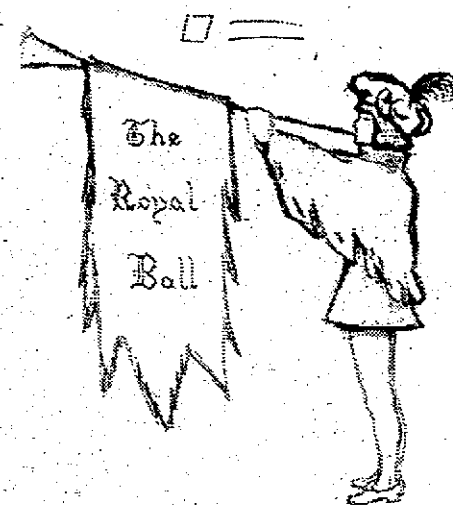

Charity Affair's

Ballroom Setting

Worthy of Royalty

A ballroom fit for Kings and Queens is the aim of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Rapp, co-chairmen of this year's decorating committee for the Warren General Hospital Auxiliary's 8th Annual Charity Ball. The theme of this year's annual spring event, "The Royal Ball", brings pictures to our minds of another era: stately ballrooms, brilliantly attired men and women, and romantic waltz music.

Accept the invitation extended to you by the Hospital Auxiliary, don your finest attire, and dance the "Shing-a-ling" and the "Boog-a-loo" of 1968 in an atmosphere befitting royalty of days gone by. Max Davis and his musicians will set the pace at the Women's Club, Saturday, May 4, from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Warren General Hospital Auxiliary is hoping for an enthusiastic response to their invitation.

Ball-goers for years have felt that attending the ball is a wonderful way to support your hospital and enjoy a fun-filled evening among old friends and new.

Tickets may be obtained at the door or by phoning Mrs. H. Johnson 723-5791, Mrs. W. Teague 723-1319, Mrs. R. Boettcher 723-5857, Mrs. T. Marsh 723-8171, who will deliver the tickets directly to your door. Admission is $8 per couple including refreshments.

Grange News

Brokenstraw Grange held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening with the main event on the Literary program being a fashion show by the men. The following modeled the latest in women's fashions: Dick Andrews, Archie Brittain, Archie Hollabaugh, Bob Jameson, Leo Johnson, with Don Warner acting as the fashion commentator. Pomona Lecturer Jean Hollabaugh gave a talk on county visitation meetings and the next Pomona Grange meeting at the New London Grange Hall. Pomona is scheduled for May 11, at 10 a. m. when Mothers Day and Fathers Day will both be honored.

Present, also for the evening, was Mrs. Ruby Wilcox, master of the Watson Grange.

Brokenstraw Grange is to have a rummage sale in its hall on May 17 and 18. Anyone having rummage to donate is asked to contact any one of the grangers.

Memorial services for all deceased members of Brokenstraw Grange of the past year will be conducted by Chaplain Sagrid Johnson at the regular meeting on May 28.

Officers of Brokenstraw Grange performed the seating drill which opened and closed the first county visitation program meeting on the following night, April 24, at Ackley Grange. Ackley Grange was host for the meeting and Chandlers Valley Grange presented the program.

More Than 1000 Churches To Hold United Sunday Services

PITTSBURGH, Pa. -- More than 1,000 Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches in Western Pennsylvania will hold "United Methodist Night" services tomorrow.

The observance will mark union of the two denominations, which was effected at the "Uniting Conference" in Dallas, Texas, now in progress.

Program details of the observance are being worked out by the individual Methodist and EUB local churches. In many cases, joint worship services by congregations of both bodies will be held. Letters of greeting from Methodist Bishop Frederick B. Newell and EUB Bishop J. Gordon Howard of Pittsburgh, mailed from Dallas, will be read at the services. Where program conflict would result, some local churches may mark the observance on other dates.

The Western Pennsylvania Conference of The Methodist Church, under the administration of Bishop Newell, includes 228,000 members of 780 churches. The Western Pennsylvania Conference of the EUB Church, administered by Bishop Howard, includes 52,000 members of 303 churches. A Joint Committee on Union is currently working out the mechanics of uniting the two bodies.

The new united conference, with some 280,000 members of 1,083 churches, will be one of the strongest in the new United Methodist Church. The new denomination will have more than 11 million members in the U.S. and Canada, 10,289,000 from The Methodist Church and 745,000 from the EUB Church. There are nearly one million additional members overseas.

Union of the two denominations was approved at the top level by the General Conferences of the two bodies, and an official "Plan of Union" was adopted, in November, 1966. Ratification was then voted by a sufficient number of the regional Annual Conferences of both churches at their annual sessions in 1967.

The two churches share a common historical and spiritual heritage. Both hold the same basic doctrines and have similar organizational structures. Historically, Methodists worked among English-speaking people, while Evangelical United Brethren worked among those speaking German. Conversations concerning union are recorded as far back as 1803.

Will Visit Nazarene Church

REV. JOHN HANCOCK

The First Church of the Nazarene will feature an internationally known youth worker as the speaker for their evangelistic campaign, Monday through Sunday, next week.

A consecrated and enthusiastic gospel preacher, Rev. John J. Hancock is pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in Weirton, West Virginia, and presently is serving as president of the international Nazarene Young People's Society.

Converted as a teen-ager in a Nazarene revival, Mr. Hancock was a reporter on two large daily newspapers in West Virginia before obeying God's compelling call to full-time ministry in 1953. Prior to taking his first pastorate at Handley, West Virginia, in a church he was instrumental in organizing, he and his wife were song evangelists.

Active in youth work, Mr. Hancock served as president of the West Virginia district Nazarene Young People's Society for four years, and in 1960 was elected to the General N.Y.P.S. Council, representing the Southeastern Zone. He was elected General N.Y.P.S. President in 1964, at which time he was also elected to the General Board of the Church of the Nazarene.

Since 1960 he has served as speaker for youth camps, conventions, camp meetings and revivals across the nation and in Canada. As evangelist, he proclaims the Word of God in sermon and song. He believes Christ's way is the best way. His ministry of full salvation is a challenge to all.

IS GUEST OF HONOR AT HAWAIIAN PARTY

Members of the Salvation Army's Home League had a Hawaiian theme for Mrs. Captain Albert Carter who has not seen her brother in Hawaii for the past twenty years. All the decorations for the affair were carried out in the proper theme, and the highlight of the evening was a telephone call completed to Mrs. Carter's brother in Honolulu. Pictured above at the party which took place on Thursday night are Mrs. Lucille Baxter, program chairman; the guest of honor, Mrs. Carter; Mrs. Major Shaffer, secretary; Miss Janet Watt and Mrs. Jane Burke.

Fashions From Britain Show

Longer Skirts

Some 40 manufacturers of ready-mades showed half a dozen day and evening dresses each, under the auspices of the Clothing Export Council of Great Britain. Top trends were shirtwaist and shifts, with few prints but lots of shadow plaids and checks, stripes, and contrasting plain colors.

Black came back in what almost amounted to a landslide. Very fitted short jackets—they used to be known as Eisenhower suits—were a popular line in suits.

While London streets are still full of miniskirt wearers, British haute couture houses had already tried to shoot short skirts down in their spring collections.

It was uncertain whether the mass market ready-to-wear manufacturers were ready to fall into step, but they did Wednesday with the exception of two or three die-hards.

Bonnie and Clyde have faded into the background, but the Bonnie beret is here to stay awhile. In dozens of variations it topped nearly every outfit in the show. Only the cloche made a fair showing by comparison.

Evening wear—never England's strong point—turned whimsically medieval with ornate brocades, laces and cut velvets. The prim, prim, granny dress, with choker neckline and ruffled hem at the ankles, found a place in many evening collections. With formal models wore clusters of ringlet curls, ribbon-tied.

We Were Missed Again

If Warren County had a one-hand clock, a night-play "lighted" golf course, or a 60-foot stainless steel cross it may have been mentioned in the Atlantic-Richfield Refining Company's weekend tour map of Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. But being stuck with such un-tourist attractions as the Kinzua Dam, the Allegheny National Forest, one of the most scenic rivers in the East, mountaintop overlooks, and some outstanding scenic drives--not to mention fabulous fishing, the grave of Chief Cornplanter, the world's first gushing oil well, the site where Handsome Lake had the vision that led to the establishment of a leading Indian religion, virgin forests, and a town that can lay claim to being the last big lumbering center east of the Mississippi River--we didn't have enough to draw an honorable mention.

Linda's Crusade

It is now a national story that Miss Linda LeClair, 20, of Barnard College, has been living off-campus in New York with Mr. Peter Behr, 22, of Columbia, and that a general story on such practices by the New York Times flushed out the cohabitation and put the authorities of Barnard College on the spot. Complications came swift and fast. Dozens upon dozens of Miss LeClair's classmates stepped forward to admit that their living arrangements were similarly loose-minded, and that therefore it would be unfair to penalize Miss LeClair simply because she happened to be the one who was caught, a defensive doctrine which is not exactly airtight.

The authorities, visibly disconcerted, demonstrated from the outset a total lack of conviction about the significance of Miss LeClair's sexual habits, and decided instead to focus on her having lied in the college form she had filled out giving the required details on where she was domiciled. All of a sudden, all of Barnard was rising in indignation over the false entry in the form, which is rather like being indignant at Iago because he was rude to Desdemona. And then, to make opera bouffe of the whole thing, after meeting solemnly to consider the disposition of the LeClair case, the authorities voted to deprive her of access to the school cafeteria, which was joke enough for a public unfamiliar with the school cafeteria, but for those who are forced to patronize it, it was apparently something in the nature of black humor.

Miss LeClair's parents were finally consulted, and it transpires that they, being of the older generation of course, disapprove their daughter's habits, and have gone so far as to cease to send her money. Mr. Behr, who is a draft evader, is apparently unable to take up the slack; so that perhaps the indomitable Miss LeClair will list herself as an unemployed concubine and apply for relief from the City, which has never been known to deny relief to anyone who applies for it; and that should settle the economic exigencies of the matter.

As for the future, we learn from Miss LeClair that it is her intention to continue to live with Mr. Behr after he is let out of prison, to which he expects to repair in consequence of his violation of the statute law if not the moral law. And they will then found a colony where couples can live and bear tion of the Drake Park. Oil City as a place that became a boomtown overnight in the 1860's. And Cook's Forest as a place where one can picnic, hike, ride horses or rented bicycles. But once again Warren County failed to rate as a place the tourist may enjoy visiting.

However, the brochure has one redeeming feature. It states that for general travel information in Pennsylvania one can write the Travel Development Bureau, Pennsylvania Department of Commerce. So now that Secretary Cliff Jones has admitted that Warren County does have some rather fine tourist attractions, and intends to include them in the next state brochure, this may do us some good.

In the meantime, it may be practical to replace our street lamps with Japanese lanterns--that should make for a great tourist attraction.

and raise children, without getting married. Miss LeClair, in other words, desires to abrogate the institution of marriage, which is apparently okay by Barnard, now that she has ceased to lie about it.

The commentary on the case in the urban press is of course more interesting than the delinquency of this pathetic little girl, so gluttonous for sex and publicity. My favorite is Mr. Max Lerner's, ever on his avant garde. Surveying the story, he concludes, "In moral terms, while it says that the sexual code is no longer there, it fails to deal with the question of truthfulness. . . ." So much for a code that developed over three-thousand years of Judeo-Christian experience . . . shot down, in a subordinate phrase, by Mr. Max Lerner.

There isn't anyone around who seems prepared to say to Miss LeClair: Look, it is wrong to do what you have done. Wrong because sexual promiscuity is an assault on an institution that is central to the survival of the hardest western ideal: the family. In an age in which the playboy philosophy is taken seriously, as a windy testimonial to the sovereign right of all human appetites, it isn't surprising that the LeClairs of this world should multiply like rabbits, whose morals they imitate. But the fact that everybody does it--even Liberace, as Noel Coward assures us--doesn't make it

JOSEPH ALSOP

Under Two Aspects

NHA TRANG, South Vietnam--Even here, in the most lightly held of the three great northern corps areas, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams has been traveling--one might almost say, storming--from headquarters to headquarters, adjuring American and allied commanders to press the offensive against the enemy to the utmost.

In the sense of making his future wishes known to the leaders who will serve under him, Gen. Abrams has already assumed command in part. When Abrams came back to Vietnam after meeting with the President and receiving his later-an-nounced appointment, the word went out that the best contribution U.S. and allied forces could make to negotiations (if any) was "to go on winning the war."

Very broadly speaking, that is the message Gen. Abrams has been carrying to divisional and other commanders. Because every American soldier here remembers the waste and folly in Korea after the talks began there, the message has been received with relief.

Remembering Korea, Hanoi may have different expectations, as does Sen. Stuart Symington, obviously not remembering Korea. But this time the prospect or even the fact of talks is not going to be allowed to prolong the fighting by hamstringing our forces in the field. And one need only glance at the Ashau Valley, in I Corps, to see that the lesson of Korea is already being acted upon with great vigor and boldness.

The Ashau Valley has been transformed, in the course of the last year, into the single most formidable North Vietnamese position in the whole of South Vietnam. The surrounding hills bristle with anti-aircraft positions. Broad roads have been built. Huge supply dumps have been accumulated. The place has, in fact, been made into a vast rear base for a renewed attack on Hue.

As what may well be his last major operation as U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland has now begun to clean out this hornet's nest. It is being done, quite obviously, with great method and care. In particular, the terrible B-52s are being methodically used to destroy the enemy anti-aircraft positions. But in the wake of the B-52s, units of the 1st Air Cavalry have already entered the valley.

All this may seem strange to people at home like Sen. Symington who have never heard of the enemy's cardinal doctrine of "fighting while negotiating," and it will certainly be very disappointing to the Hanoi war-planners. But in view of their own book, the Hanoi war-planners should at least understand what is happening.

One of the most curious features of this war, in fact, is the old contrast between the insistence of many Americans that the war is mainly "political" and the even stronger insistence of the enemy leaders that their sole aim is military victory. Consider, for example, the directive issued by the enemy's southern high command, COSVN, on Jan. 31, which was mentioned in the last report in this space.

"ONLY," says that directive, "when we succeed in destroying the entire puppet army and government, neutralizing the actual political and military support of the Americans and annihilating a large portion of the U.S. and allied forces, can we drive them into total defeat and achieve the final victory!"

This was not propaganda stuff, either. It was a key passage from a most secret staff paper on the highest level, for dissemination to the enemy's military region commanders and province party secretaries. The same document warned grimly:

"If in the coming days we fail quickly to motivate a large and powerful force of the masses to stand up against the enemy in time, and if we fail to concentrate our armed forces to attack them continuously, they will certainly recover (from the just-launched Tet offensive) and counterattack us more strongly. Not only will it limit our victories, but it will create new difficulties for us."

It was, in truth, a soundly conceived staff document. Both the "failures" warned against rapidly materialized. The "new difficulties" began to be created long ago, as well, and the Ashau operation indicates that these "difficulties" are likely to mount as time goes on.

Meanwhile, the enemy has promised his exhausted troops and cadres an end to the war this spring or summer. At Tet, in the same fashion, they were promised that they would be welcomed with open arms in the towns and cities. If the reported new attack on Saigon is attempted, it will be solely because the other side cannot stand still any longer without great loss of ground.

In sum, we may have our problems, as, of course, we do, but this reporter leaves Vietnam thanking Almighty God that they are nothing like the problems confronting the Hanoi war-leaders.

Happenings Years Ago

The Dirt Farmers

The dirt farmers of over a century ago in New York state knew little of classical Greece. They were practical men who made their living from the soil but they had a yearning for a touch of elegance in their homes. So, from the ruins of the Ancient World, they borrowed the Greek column.

The abundance of virgin white pine timber, and the ease with which it could be worked, made possible the introduction of a wooden adaptation of the fluted Greek column, complete with base, shaft, and capital.

A few days ago I drove diagonally across New York state until I was within sight of the Green Mountains of Vermont. I shunned the New York through-way, and stuck to the back roads where I could get a close look at the farms and villages.

I am not well versed in the Doric, Ionic, and Corinthian columns of the ancient Greeks. But if I were, I would never have expected to see reasonable facsimiles of any of them adorn the farm houses of rural America. That both Doric and Ionic adaptations may still be seen holding up the porch roofs on many New York state farm houses is a tribute to the versatility and long life of lumber made from the "king of the woods"—Eastern white pine.

Wherever these old farm houses have been carefully maintained over the years, they still retain much of their old elegance. But far too many have been allowed to fall into utter ruin.

A Greek temple in ruins still retains enough of its past glory to attract tourists from all over the world. An American farm house with its Greek columns all weathered and in need of paint, the porch roof sagging as the floor holding up the columns gives way, and faded green shutters dangling askew from the windows is a depressing sight. It is even more depressing to look at the dilapidated sheds, abandoned farm machinery, and junked cars surrounding the old house.

Where a fine old house has been allowed to fall into ruin and then abandoned, the cause is often written on the land around it. The heavily-trampled, over-grazed pastures invaded by thorn apple trees and high weeds; the gullied hillsides; and the dry creek bed nearby, that once flowed the year-round, all point to past land abuse.

New York never had its "dust bowl", but it has had a long history of farm abandonment wherever the land has proved sub-marginal for farming, or where the farmer "mined" the land.

Advancing suburbia, with its rows of "cracker box" homes and its shopping plazas, is threatening other old farm houses of the Greek revival period.

The influence of Greek architecture on pioneer farmers' homes in New York state lasted about a century-and-a-half, when Americans were largely a rural people. Like the pillared plantation mansions in the deep South, they once lent dignity to the rural scene.

Once there were 10,000 castles in rural Spain. Now there are scarcely 1,000. They too had been neglected and allowed to fall into ruin, and the Spanish peasants have carted them away—stone by stone—to build their own humble houses.

"WHEN'S ROMNEY COMING BACK?"

DREW PEARSON

Humphrey Changes Tone

WASHINGTON—When Vice President Humphrey delivered his recent speech on building bridges to China, most people figured that either he was breaking with President Johnson or had cleared his speech with the White House in advance. Real fact is that he had done neither.

It was a speech quite different from that of six months ago when he talked about "militant aggressive Asian communism with its headquarters in Peking." Instead, last week he talked about replacing "iron curtains" with "open doors."

"I look forward to the day when the great Chinese people, no longer victimized from within, take their place in the modern world," Humphrey said.

People who wondered about the speech didn't know that after its delivery the Vice President got a phone call from President Johnson congratulating him. They also didn't know that previously Johnson had told Humphrey to go out "on your own, make your own policy."

"It was a great speech," the President said after delivery.

"It was the same speech you delivered at White Sulphur Springs last year," the Vice President replied.

Vice President Humphrey isn't making it official until today, but behind the scenes he's been making a lot of political hay. He now has a close-knit campaign organization, a top money raiser, and a brain trust, together with a lot of delegates quietly pledged around the nation.

Most interesting member of the Humphrey team is Dick Maguire, one-time money-raiser for John F. Kennedy and once a close friend of the Kennedy family. Today, however, Maguire is ensconced in the Mayflower hotel in Washington as treasurer of "United Democrats for Humphrey."

The Vice President's campaign managers are two live-wire members of the Senate—Fred Harris of Oklahoma, who may be the next Senate Democratic Whip, and Walter Mondale, Hubert's fellow Minnesotan.

Bob Short, former owner of the Minneapolis Lakers, who was Minnesota campaign manager for Sen. Estes Kefauver when Kefauver trounced both Adlai Stevenson and Humphrey in the 1952 Minnesota primary, has also joined the Vice President's brain trust.

Humphrey's most interesting Senate backer is the leading Italian-American of the nation, Sen. John Pastore of Rhode Island. Pastore packs a lot of punch in the Senate, also in the White House. President Johnson gives him credit for his new technique in holding televised press conferences.

"That little bantam rooster came in here and told me to stop being a Baptist preacher," the President told a friend. "Get away from the podium," he said, "and be the old swinging Lyndon Johnson!"

RICHARD HARATINE

Shafer's Write-ins

HARRISBURG -- He was pleased, the Governor said, that all of his relatives had turned out to vote for him in the presidential primaries on Tuesday.

It was raining in Harrisburg Wednesday morning. But under the warm klieg lights in the Capitol's film studios where they hold governors' press conferences, everything was coming up roses.

And Ray Shafer had no intention of damping the atmosphere by making a big thing of his 365 write-in votes reported from 5,115 precincts across the state by 10 a.m. Even President Johnson had gotten more Republican write-ins (699) by that hour.

But Public Affairs Secretary Hugh Flaherty had supplied proper explanations the night before, direct from the governor's fireside at Indiantown Gap.

"The Party had already given him a favorite son position," said Flaherty, "so there was no need for a write-in."

Haratine

Flaherty, of course, was right. That was enough to keep Richard Nixon and others off the primary ballot.

With the results of the Constitutional Convention at stake, political strategy called for an extremely light primary.

And, except for the trouble between two Democrats—Senator Joseph S. Clark and Congressman John H. Dent and their battle for the Democratic nomination to Clark's seat—that's the way it was.

On a statewide basis, there was nothing much to stir the voters and bring them out to the polls.

As for the Charter questions, nobody was quite sure what booby traps they held—neither two Supreme Court justices nor a south central newspaper editor who explained to his readers last Saturday that Question One "just juggles the Legislature around".

Early in the year, the front office had discouraged John Tabor from stirring up the natives by challenging Congressman Richard Schweiker for the Republican nomination to the U.S. Senate. Tabor receded, and since this remarkable display of discernment, valor and political awareness, he has been named Pennsylvania's secretary of labor and industry.

The Clark-Dent contest helped to give Democrats a bigger turnout at the polls than the governor's party. Only 30 percent of Pennsylvania's 5.2 million voters visited their polling places. This was not a light turnout. It was pathetic.

And it was the lethargy surrounding the entire election process that gave Republican State Chairman Jack Jordan some tense hours throughout election night.

For hidden on the ballot was a cross-filing contest for Superior Court.

Democrat William Cercone was winning his party nomination easily. But, on the Republican ballot, where Cercone also had drawn the No. 1 position, Republican John Hannum was nearly the victim of Republican regulars who were chucking their votes to the first name on the ballot, rather than for their own man, Hannum.

It was under these conditions that the work of Pennsylvania's first Constitutional Convention in 94 years was approved by the electorate. On the basis of pluralities gained by each of the Five Questions, this means that fewer than 25 percent of Pennsylvania's electorate has okayed the new Constitution.

Notwithstanding, Gov. Shafer was so overwhelmed by the Constitutional victory that he labeled the result an "act of courage" by "the people" of Pennsylvania.

"Those who didn't vote," he explained, "gave their proxy."

Sen. Pastore suffered a heart attack this winter, and also has been under attack by the Kennedy forces. Bobby Kennedy has applied tremendous pressure to get Pastore to support him. He has argued that Rhode Island is the neighbor of Massachusetts and he wanted all of New England to be for him for President.

Despite the pressure, the Vice President last week got a call from Sen. Pastore.

"Hubert," he said, "I've just called the Providence papers in here and I've told them I'm for you. You're the best qualified man we have to be President."

"Can I quote you on that?" Humphrey asked.

"Sure you can," Sen. Pastore replied.

The Vice President has talked to members of the Johnson cabinet, and with three exceptions, advised them not to endorse him. He was fearful of the political reaction.

"I can just hear Bobby say in his next speech that Lyndon Johnson was meat-axing me by turning his entire Cabinet loose to cut me up," the Vice President told Cabinet friends. "He's just waiting for a chance to make that speech."

The three exceptions who are backing Humphrey are:

ORVILLE FREEMAN, Secretary of Agriculture, who was elected governor of Minnesota partly through Humphrey's campaigning, and once baby-sat for the Humphrey children as a student at the University of Minnesota.

WILLARD WIRTZ, Secretary of Labor, whose close affiliation with George Meany and the AFL-CIO, and Walter Reuther makes support for Humphrey a natural.

ROBERT WEAVER, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, the one Negro in the Cabinet. Weaver expects to announce later.

Among the Democratic stalwarts around the country lining up for Humphrey are Fred Betts, Democratic National Committeeman in Colorado; Sen. Gale McGee in Wyoming; Arthur Courshon, Miami Beach banker; J. B. Fuqua in Georgia; and Sen. Ed Muskie in Maine; plus the probable support of Mayor Richard Daley of Chicago, Mayor James Tate of Philadelphia, and Gov. Richard Hughes of New Jersey.

Through French intelligence sources, the Central Intelligence Agency has been anxiously trying to convince the French government that it had nothing to do with planting the revelations of the former French spy, Philippe Thyraud de Vosjoli, in Life magazine.

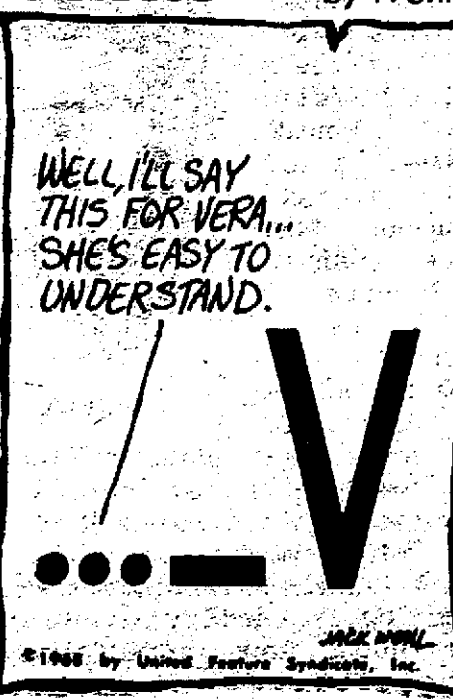

French newspapers have charged that the publication was inspired by the CIA.

Actually, this column broke the story—without CIA inspiration—last Aug. 19. We reported in detail how Soviet spies had penetrated French President Charles de Gaulle's inner circle and had planted misleading intelligence upon him. We suggested this may have contributed to his obsessive anti-American attitude.

We also revealed that the late President Kennedy sent De Gaulle a personal, hand-delivered letter warning him of the Soviet penetration. De Gaulle spurned the warning.

All these facts have now been reported, eight months later, by Life magazine.

Miss Genevieve Blatt, assistant director, Department of the Aging, of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), will address a public meeting at Warren County courthouse at 2 p.m. today. Don Taft, local director of the OEO-funded Project FIND, has said that elderly persons in particular are invited to the meeting.

Project FIND is one of three local projects aimed at helping the elderly. A new non-profit corporation, Experience Inc., is attempting to set up a senior citizens service center for Warren, and another local non-profit corporation, Warren Housing Inc., is trying to find a way to provide relatively low-cost housing for the elderly. The purpose of Project FIND, which is sponsored locally by Warren-Forest Counties Economic Opportunity Council Inc., was stated this week by Taft as follows:

"Project FIND is a multipurpose program. The primary objective is a survey of persons age 55 and older to identify and record their needs. This data will be used by the National Council on the Aging to find ways to alleviate such needs. Additional objectives include cooperating with and assisting existing organizations in providing services to the elderly; stimulating the elderly in becoming involved in employment and social action to better themselves; direct service to the elderly by escorting them to doctors, hospitals, clothing centers, health and welfare agencies and other organizations interested in aiding the needy; and the underlying theme of creating an awareness that many elderly persons are in need of assistance."

Miss Blatt's appearance in Warren is in connection with Senior Citizens Week in Warren County, April 27 through May 4, a part of the national observance of Senior Citizens Month in May. She will be in the Warren area all day, beginning the day with an 8 a.m. breakfast at the Penn-Laurel Motel with local antipoverty officials. At 10 a.m., she will meet with Project FIND employees at the project's office at 220 Liberty St. Antipoverty officials and members of Experience Inc. will attend a noon luncheon for Miss Blatt at the Blue Manor Restaurant prior to the 2 p.m. courthouse appearance. At 4 p.m., she will leave for the Blue Jay Job Corps camp, for a meeting with camp officials and corporamen. And at 9:17 p.m., she will leave Bradford Airport for Harrisburg.

Her visit precedes by two days a public hearing on antipoverty programs at the courthouse, called by the county commissioners to decide whether the programs' sponsorship should be changed.

Project FIND's recent activities include the planning of a "quilt bank" for use next winter and encouragement of community hall renovation at Endeavor, Taft said this week. Clothing centers have been active, and project aides are continuing their survey and referral work, he noted. There is a need for a central warehouse for donated clothing and furniture, he said; present storage places are too small.

Experience Inc. has reportedly submitted a budget to the county commissioners for approval, and has contacted the State Office of the Aging. Directors are now considering whom to hire to head the corporation. Nothing definite has been announced about getting real estate for the proposed senior citizens center.

Warren Housing has been working on its preliminary plans for a housing project at the east end of Fourth ave., trying to find a way to reduce the costs of constructing the project so that rents will not be prohibitive. Preliminary cost estimates indicated that rents would have to be too high.

The problem of housing for the elderly is connected with another proposed local project, the Penn-Market urban renewal plan, which has lain dormant for several years. If this plan, which involves an area south of Pennsylvania ave. in downtown Warren, is ever carried out, a number of elderly persons who live in the area would have to be relocated. A housing authority might have to be formed. There has been increased discussion of this project recently, but again no definite action.

FIND WORKER

Project FIND worker M. H. Hendrickson visits Mr. and Mrs. Charles Darling of Coovers Crossing, near Youngsville. FIND supervisor Don Taft said recently the project has obtained financial aid for the couple, who are raising a young grandson.

Your Horoscope

By Frances Drake

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1968

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)--For things to which you are naturally adapted, day has numerous advantages. In certain other matters, there will be obstacles, delays. Don't fret. Things will right themselves by next Tuesday.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)--Not all will work out as planned but in many cases you will find out later that this has been to your advantage. Do what you must as well as you can; gains will accrue.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)--Note Taurus; your outlook similar. Be careful not to give others wrong impressions and do avoid making hasty decisions. Confusion could result.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)--Planetary aspects mostly auspicious, but accuracy and forethought must spark all decisions, moves. Some excellent results will reward serious endeavor.

LEO (July 24 to August 23)--Business and-or occupational interests will need more than usual attention, but give it to them and you will be highly pleased with results.

VIRGO (August 24 to September 23)--Get busy and buckle down where the odds are against you and problems loom. With the Virgoan's innate practicality and resourcefulness, you can handle all situations.

LIBRA (September 24 to October 23)--Neither expect nor demand too much and you will be surprised at your over-all returns. Avoid, however, a current tendency to go off on tangents, to put aside "musts" for unessentials.

SCORPIO (October 24 to November 22)--You may have to work hard to keep this day up to par, and to present yourself at your best. Pick up loose ends, retouch, finish all projects started. Be careful if handling the affairs of others.

SAGITTARIUS (November 23 to December 21)--There will be no easy way around this day. Just one misstep could mean a real setback. On the other hand, a smart, rightly calculated move could save time, raise your prestige. Pause to think.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20)--Don't waste time or energies. You will have this day "in the bag" if you emphasize system, accuracy, foresightedness. Study offerings well, however, before accepting or rejecting.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19)--Hold off in those areas which need more investigation, but step up your schedule once you have the data, so as not to lose time. New opportunities soon.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20)--Devote your attention to completing routine matters, rather than attempting long-range undertakings. A good day for advancing in business. Avoid anxiety.

YOU BORN TODAY are often given to study rather than quick action. This results in some outstanding discoveries, by yourself or others. You never hurt intentionally, but can annoy with obstinacy, pleasure-loving tendencies; handicap your own success by slow decisions, anxiety. You may travel without aim, but always pick up helpful information. You strive for the "impossible", and often make it; will toil, trust, take on chores others loathe, thus endear self to home and employer. Develop your knack for finesse, cleverness in business, system. Steer from the impractical and fantastic. Birthdate of: General U.S. Grant, 18th President of the U.S.A.; Samuel Morse, inventor (Morse Code).

How to Keep Well

By Dr. T. R. Van Dellen

(c) 1968 By The Chicago Tribune

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

ILLNESS SHARED BY FAMILY

Illness is a family affair. When one member suffers the others suffer with him. The situation presents special problems when the breadwinner is sick and refuses medical aid. Some time ago the wife of such a man requested our leaflet on peptic ulcer.

"I have a wonderful husband who suffers constantly with an ulcer but he won't see our doctor. We have three lovely children, and a happy home life, even though we have very few material things. Our finances are limited, therefore we never buy luxuries that run up bills because this would worry him. Doing without is no problem, I just want my husband healthy and happy."

"He won't discuss his problems even though I am willing to listen and try to free him of worries. He works hard and long for very little money. His boss, (the tyrant), yells so much that most of the men are upset. Evenings and Sundays we relax with the family. Would a hobby help? He painted a picture of the Last Supper and when working on it, he didn't have a single attack."

Apparently this man has a wonderful family who are well and satisfied with their lot in life. The least he could do is consult the physician or go to a clinic. We must also assume he has an ulcer and not nervous indigestion. Both disorders may be associated with tension, but peptic ulcer is the more serious.

This man should change jobs if conditions do not improve. This is easier said than done because some men lack self-confidence and hesitate quitting. On the other hand, he may thrive on the sympathy he receives because he is sick. Perhaps he is afraid the physician will tell him his distress is of nervous origin and not an ulcer. A hobby will help, but he should try to eliminate all aggravations.

TOMORROW: If You Must Smoke.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

ERYSIPELAS INFECTION

A reader writes: Is erysipelas a serious disorder? My physician said I have it. It would help to know what to expect.

REPLY
This is a strep infection that involves the skin and underlying tissues. The epidermis turns a vivid red and the victim may develop chills, fever, headache, joint discomfort, and vomiting. The condition may originate from nests of bacteria in the nose and throat. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on erysipelas.

CHILDREN'S FEATURE

This Wonderful World

BY DON NEAL

Is your dad a hunter? If he is, I suppose that in the fall of the year he hunts grouse and you have often heard him tell of how the grouse when it is scared will bomb out of thicket, its wings making a thunderous sound that often scares the unsuspecting hunter half out of his wits as well. If you haven't heard a grouse make this sound yet, you have a thrill coming.

And while hunting grouse in the fall of the year is alright if you're thinking of making a luscious grouse potpie, I prefer to hunt them in the spring when it is against the law to carry a gun. For I'm not too enthused anymore about killing grouse, I get a lot more fun out of just observing them in their woodland homes.

This is just about the time of year when every male grouse has his mind set on finding himself a girl friend, and it won't be too long until the hen grouse will be setting on the nest, or even be strutting around some grassy plot in the forest with her family of chicks scurrying along in her wake. So its the time of the year when I like to get out and try to locate the grouse family that will get a lot of my attention as the summer progresses.

I will get the first hint of where a good place to look for them is when I hear the male grouse drumming. Drumming? That is the sound a male grouse makes with his wings when he is trying to attract the attentions of a hen grouse. It's a hard sound to describe, but could possibly be called a muffled rear. So as I walk along a woodland path I listen for the drummer at work.

There's been a lot of argument about how the grouse makes his drumming song. At first, observers thought it came from the throat of the bird. Others thought the sound was made by the bird beating his wings against his body. While others thought that because the drummer always perched on a log to do his drumming that he must usually pick a hollow log and beat his wings against it. But the latest theory is that the grouse produces the drumming sound by use of his wings alone.

In general, the grouse sits on the same spot, facing the same way, on the same log, for every drumming session. Each drumming lasts only a few seconds, but can be repeated at intervals of a few minutes. The worst part of it is that the grouse can seldom be found at the spot where the sound seems to be coming from. He's a good ventriloquist. And if you do eventually get around to locating him and watch him put on his act, you've really accomplished something.

However, you don't always have to locate the drumming male. But it has been my experience that the best place to look for a nesting grouse hen is in the vicinity of where a drummer was doing his courting not too long before. And you're going to find that the hen is just about as hard to locate as a drummer. But by moving slowly along through a good area and keeping alert you may eventually spot her on the nest. If you do, don't go near her. Just let her go about her business of hatching her eggs, for the real fun will come later.

As the time for the eggs to hatch grows closer, she will often leave the nest. While she is gone is the time to creep up and count the eggs in the nest and look closely (without handling) to see if there is any sign that the peeps are chipping their way through the shell. If they haven't started yet, be patient. They'll be popping out soon enough.

And this is when the fun begins. To watch a chick fight its way out of a shell, get shakily to its feet, adjust its rubbery legs, then look around with wonderment at the world it has suddenly discovered, is really exciting. And before this chick has taken its first step, another will be chipping its way through the shell. In short order, as many as a dozen wobbly chicks will be staggering around in the nest.

Now! Do you want to see instinct in action? If you do, just extend your flattened hand over the nest, a few inches above the chicks. Every chick in the nest will try to huddle beneath your hand, and the closer your hand approaches them, the more they will struggle to cuddle up to it. This is when you are as much a mother to these chicks as the grouse hen herself is. Their instinct to "brood" is showing.

But the real kick for me is when I can hide myself in some natural blind and watch the hen as she introduces her brood to the area around the nest. It is surprising to learn that by the time she takes them from the nest for the first time she has already taught them to hide at the first unnatural sound or at the first quick movement anywhere about them. Maybe this, too, is instinct.

Each day the mother grouse will lead her chicks a little further from the nest. Each day the chicks will get a little further from her protection as they dart here and there picking insects from the grass and ground. And eventually, full-feathered and strong, they will flush with her when you come upon them unexpectedly—booming forth a sound that will scare you half out of your wits.

CHAMPION CHEERLEADER

Linda Curtin, Sheffield High School Varsity cheerleader, won a trophy and title of "Miss Pennsylvania Cheerleader 1968 District IX," at a clinic at Brockway last Saturday, in which cheerleader teams from 20 high schools participated. She was also awarded a scholarship to Pennsylvania State cheerleader camp at Juniata College in June, when champions from the 12 school athletic districts assemble for advanced instruction. (Photo by Hoff)

Sheffield Teen is 'Miss Cheerleader'

Petite personable fifteen-year-old Linda Curtin, a Sheffield High School Varsity Cheerleader, has been selected "Miss Pennsylvania Cheerleader District IX." She won her championship in competition with candidates entered from eleven high schools at a cheerleader clinic at Brockway High School last Saturday, in which teams from twenty District IX high school participated.

Linda Curtin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Curtin of Barnes.

The young champion cheerleader was awarded a handsome trophy engraved with her name and title. She is also awarded a scholarship to the Pennsylvania state cheerleader camp session at Juniata College, Huntington, Pa., the week of June 23, 1968. The camp is sponsored by the Nationwide Cheer Leader Association, with headquarters at Saltsburg, Pa. The entire Sheffield High School Varsity Cheerleader team took part in last Saturday's District IX cheerleader clinic. All were elated that one of their number was chosen "Miss Pennsylvania Cheerleader 1968" against such tough competition. Team members are Cindy Fitch, Karen Trubic, Beth Anundson, Kathy Polimene, Diane Leseman and sisters Linda and Nancy Curtin. Champion cheerleaders from the 12 Pennsylvania high school athletic districts will join Sheffield's Linda Curtin at the summer camp session at Juniata College.

Exchange Student Arrives For Stay in Sheffield

Marta DeGano, a sixteen-year-old exchange student from Argentina, arrived late Wednesday in Sheffield. She will attend Sheffield High School until June 8, 1968, when she will have completed a six-months tour of the United States under the International Fellowship program with which Sheffield High School is affiliated.

Senorita DeGano has been attending Green High School in Uniontown, Ohio.

Marta DeGano is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bulicz, 20 South Main in Sheffield, while in Sheffield.

Her American "sister" is Kathy Bulicz, who was herself an exchange student in Argentina last summer under the International Fellowship Student Exchange program.

Last year Sheffield High School was host to three exchange students, one from Brazil, one from Argentina and the other from Peru. In 1967 the Sheffield High School Student Council also sent two exchange students for summer abroad; Kathy Bulicz to Argentina, and Diane Leseman to Uruguay.

In 1966 Sheffield High School Student Council sent Karen Trubic to Argentina as a summer abroad exchange student. They also were hosts to two exchange students from South America.

"This is a pleasant surprise, to have Marta DeGano with us in Sheffield High School," says principal Ralph Santo. On but twenty-four hour's notice Donald Lang, faculty advisor for the Student Council's foreign exchange program, arranged for her home in Sheffield and accepted Senorita Marta DeGano as a student.

Sheffield High School has an enviable record of its international minded student exchange program.

In 1668 yellow fever made its first recorded appearance in North America in severe epidemics in New York and Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania's Looking Younger Every Day!

Young people have found a state with spirit to match their own . . . Pennsylvania, three hundred years old but still thinking young!

All over the state there's a new look, a new hustle. New industries. New plants. New roads. New airports. New ideas in government and living, colleges and schools, libraries, stadiums, office buildings, recreation facilities, homes. If it's the young thing, the "now" thing, it's the Pennsylvania thing.

If you're young . . . or if you think young . . . you can help build your own tomorrow, and your family's, in the vibrantly aggressive New Pennsylvania.

"Let's talk
dry cleaning"

By HOWARD JARVIS

Spring is here! With its changing weather, its promise of greenery and budding flowers, its hint of warm days under a bright sun, its lazy spring fever, the new season is well under way.

We've suggested before that this is a good time to bring in heavy blankets and bedspreads and draperies for spring cleaning. It's time to look over your winter clothing, too. Topcoats and overcoats, heavy suits and woollens, all the clothes you might be planning to put away for the summer should always be cleaned first.

You've heard the slogan, "Don't put a cold in your pocket." Well, we might paraphrase that to say, "Don't put soiled, stained or wrinkled clothes in your closet." Dirt is the worst enemy your clothes have... so let us rout the enemy by cleaning the garments thoroughly before they're put away. At the same time, you'll be bringing your spring and summer garments out of the chest or the closet. Before the really warm weather gets here to stay, let us freshen up this lightweight clothing; clean it where necessary, press out the winter's creases.

Educational TV Schedule

Selected Viewing

Saturday, 10 p. m. — MASS MEDIA AND RACE focuses on the methods employed by newsmen and broadcasters in dealing with race relations. The program, filmed at a conference at Syracuse University, will cover such topics as the possible effect of television in spreading race riots.

Sunday, 8:30 p. m. — PUBLIC BROADCAST LABORATORY devotes this program to "War Games," an exercise in international decision-making based on the current Vietnam situation. The games will be played by teams of foreign affairs experts who will represent the different groups involved in the war.

Monday, 9 p. m. — NET JOURNAL presents a study of the affluent Negro's conflict between his hard-earned status in the American middle class and his sympathy with the black movement on "Still A Brother: Inside the Negro Middle Class."

Tuesday, 9 and 10 p. m. — THE CARNEGIE TRIO and CONCERT IN BRASS are two programs featuring the finest in classical music. At 9 p. m., THE CARNEGIE TRIO performs selections from the works of Josef Haydn and Dmitri Shostakovich. CONCERT IN BRASS presents The American Brass Quintet in a concert of contemporary music.

Wednesday, 10 p. m. — THE FIRING LINE presents Sir Arthur Lunn, noted British philosopher, writer, and ski authority. With program host William F. Buckley, Jr., Lunn discusses life in England and the position of Christianity in today's society.

Thursday, 9:30 p. m. — PENNSYLVANIA MAGAZINE continues its examination of the economic effects of the Vietnamese war, tonight focusing on domestic aspects. Appearing on "Business Outlook" are David H. McKinley, associate dean of the College of Business Administration, Arthur H. Reede, professor of labor economics, and Phillip A. Klein, associate professor of economics, all of Penn State.

Friday, 10 p. m. — NET PLAYHOUSE presents "The Young Elizabeth," a drama which deals with the passionate and ambitious daughter of Henry VII during the tempestuous years before her coronation as Elizabeth I. It was during these years that young "Bess" first displayed the courage which equipped her to reign as one of England's greatest queens.

Neighborhood Youth Corps Sees Narcotics Film

"Pit of Despair," a film on narcotics sponsored by the Pennsylvania State Police, was shown Saturday, April 20 to the Neighborhood Youth Corps in the Warren-Forest Counties Economic Opportunity Council, Inc., office. It is a film depicting how innocently one may become involved with narcotics and the suffering and terror which results.

An informative lecture also was given by Trooper Harry Jabo, followed by a question and answer period. This was a program for one of the monthly meetings provided Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollees. The Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollees, ages 15 through 21, are employed at non-profit organization sites in Warren and Forest counties. The program is authorized by the U.S. Department of Labor under a delegation of authority by the Office of Economic Opportunity, Inc.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Peace and Freedom

By Howard R. Faulkner
First Baptist Church

We all have deadlines to meet . . . and today is mine to have this copy in the hands of my "superior". This day was a special day in the life of our country, for "today" was April 9, 1968, the day that Dr. Martin Luther King was buried. Violence has raised its ugly head against a man who sought for peace and freedom for those oppressed. And this took place just one week before the anniversary of another who suffered violence after He had preached the same message of peace and freedom.

James asks, "What causes wars, and what causes fightings among you? Is it not your passions that are at war in your members? You desire and do not have; so you kill. And you covet and cannot obtain; so you fight and wage war." Ah! Here is an answer . . . unbridled passion, covetousness and selfishness lie at the root of personal and national problems. Are not most marriage difficulties caused by these things? My passion must be satisfied regardless of the wishes of my mate. . . coveting the neighbor's wife (or house or car or colored TV) . . . selfish use of one's time without thought to the needs of others in the family.

World troubles are much the same, but I'll not bore you with more words on a subject we all are acutely aware of. What I do want to do is move to the answer God gives to all our problems. It is not just trite to say "Christ is the Answer".

"Therefore being justified (saved) by faith, we have peace . . ." says Paul to the Romans. Peace first with God. Then im-piled peace with one another. If my personal faith has brought me into right relation with God, then I must get right with my neighbor — no matter what his color may be!

"Whom the Son sets free, he is free indeed" says our Lord Jesus Christ. Freedom from sin and all its side effects can only come when Christ sets us free. He is still the only answer to SIN and sin is our basic problem. And faith in His completed work on the Cross as our sin-bearer is still God's way . . . "For by grace are you saved through faith. . . and that is the gift of God, not of works lest any man should boast." (Eph. 2:8, 9)

Peace and Freedom can come . . . to individuals. . . to oppressed races. . . to the world, but only as you and I come into right relations with Jesus Christ, the Son of God!

Limberlost Will Re-Open On May 3

The Limberlost Restaurant which has been closed since March 2, due to the death of its young manager, Jack O'Donnell, will re-open for business on May 3.

A family spokesman said: "We have had many inquiries from area residents as to our future plans for the Limberlost of which Jack was such an important part. It has been our intention from the time we acquired the restaurant about a year ago, to create an establishment that will be a credit to all the residents of the Northern Alleghenies—a place where local people as well as visitors to our area can come and enjoy good food in a rustic atmosphere. We feel that Jack had Limberlost well on its way to that goal. After much deliberation, we have decided to continue at Limberlost in this same tradition."

Replacing Jack as manager will be an older brother, Jerry (Jiggs) O'Donnell, of Warren. Jerry is well known to local residents through his association with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., as agent in the Warren-Sheffield area.

Vandals Keep Borough Employees Busy

STRIP TREE

Jim Reier, borough parks and playground supervisor, inspects a young tree in the Crescent Park area. Vandals felt called upon to peel the bark from tree with about $30 involved in costs and labor.

With real winter over G. H. Reier, Warren borough parks and playground superintendent, with his crew keep busy readying the various recreation areas for spring and summer activities.

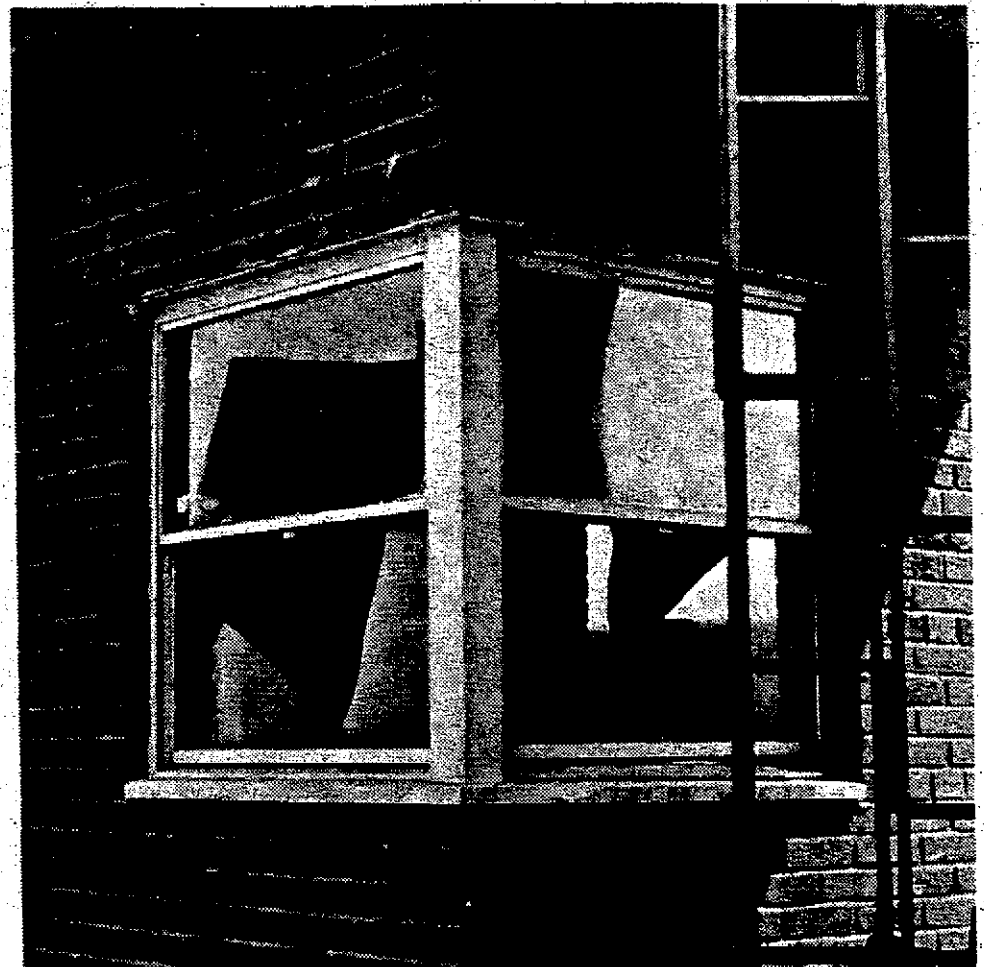

Vandals, however, have kept equally busy, adding man hours and extra costs for Reier and his men.

Incidents viewed separately may seem trivial but when put together represent a real problem.

Broken windows, doors smashed, fences damaged and trees bruised has thus far been the vandalism trend this month. Earlier, the borough was forced to replace memorial markers when it was learned that youthful vandals had attempted to pry off the handsome metal plates.

Annually, the beautiful flowers planted and nurtured by the park department, are subject to those who refuse to respect borough-maintained property.

It is unfortunate that with so many useful things to be done for the community, there are ever those whose kicks come from destroying areas designed for the enjoyment of others.

HIT MEMORIAL FIELD

War Memorial Field, with its list of those who died for their country, is not sacred to some. During the week of April 11, vandals struck and smashed windows in the ticket office. Glass, of course, had to be replaced by the parks and playground department.

STRIKE AGAIN

Vandals moved in for a second time the week of April 22 at War Memorial Field and again broke windows in the ticket office. After glass was replaced the week before, park and playground department personnel had to start the job over again, adding more costs and man hours to keep the recreation area ready for spring and summer.

RUIN FENCE

Mulberry Street Playground fell victim to vandals this month sometime during the week of April 22. Here members of the parks and playground committee make repairs to the fence. Superintendent G.H. (Jim) Reier said the series of incidents creates many costly problems.

KICK IN DOOR

In addition to breaking windows in the War Memorial Field ticket office the week of April 22, vandals also broke a panel on a door. Vandalism is an annual affair and keeps the borough parks and playground crew busy with unnecessary repairs and costs.
